JOHN ROBINSON

Head Football Coach

To some people last fall's selection of John Robinson as new USC football coach was a bit of a surprise.

To Al Davis, Robinson's ex-boss with the NFL's Oakland Raiders, the choice was as natural for USC as a handoff to the tailback.

"The best word for John Robinson," says Davis, managing general partner of the Raiders, "is excellent. John is an excellent coach with excellent enthusiasm, aggressiveness and intelligence. And he'll be a good recruiter."

Now 41, Robinson was hired as the Trojans' 17th head coach last November, replacing John McKay, who went to Tampa of the NFL after 16 years as the winningest coach in USC history.

Dynamic, youthful and personable, Robinson was not awed by his challenge, he was stimulated by it. While still coaching the Raiders' offensive backs, he made weekly Sunday night flights to Los Angeles to begin recruiting and putting together a new USC staff.

He brings to USC 16 years of full-time coaching experience, capped by his season with the Raiders who reached the AFC championship game. Johnny's hiring at USC, however, was a homecoming.

For three years (1972-74), Robinson served as McKay's offensive coordinator, coaching the running backs two seasons and the quarterbacks one. In that period the Trojans compiled a 31-3-2 record, went to three Rose Bowls, won two national championships and averaged 32 points a game.

"We hope to have an exciting, balanced offense at USC," says Robinson. "We want to maintain the tremendous standard of running success that has been set here, but like all the great Trojan teams, we intend to be very effective passing, too."

"Coaching also begins with defense. No one wins a championship without a good defense — and we plan to have one."

Robinson coached the 1976 Trojans for the first time in the spring — and he impressed everyone who saw him.

On the field he moved like the wind. One moment he checked the offensive line, the next the backs, and minutes later he was with the linebackers, or the secondary, or the quarterbacks. And always he was encouraging, correcting, demanding. He didn't miss much.

Robinson began his coaching career as a graduate assistant at Oregon, his alma mater. Like John McKay, Robinson played football for the Ducks, and like McKay, he became an assistant there for several years.

Robinson was a full-time assistant with the Ducks from 1960 through 1971, serving under Len Casanova and Jerry Frei. He was Frei's No. 1 assistant when he left the Northwest to come to USC for the first time.

At Oregon, Robinson was well grounded in both offense and defense. From 1960 to 1962 he was head freshman coach, and then for four seasons he guided the defensive backfield.

In 1967 and 1968 he was head defensive coach, and then in 1969 he became head offensive coach, a post he held three years.

Two of the backs Robinson coached, quarterback Dan Fouts and tailback Bobby Moore, broke virtually all of Oregon's offensive records.

Born July 25, 1935, in Chicago, Robinson and his family moved to Provo, Utah, when John was six years old, then briefly back to Chicago and finally to San Mateo, Calif.

John went to grammar school with John Madden, now head coach of the Raiders, and later served as the best man in Madden's wedding.

At San Mateo's Serra High, Robinson played football and baseball, winning Catholic All-American and All-Northern California honors at end for the football team.

At Oregon — where he received a bachelor's degree in education — John was a reserve end, lettering on the Ducks' 1957 Pacific Coast Conference championship team. He appeared briefly in the 1958 Rose Bowl against Ohio State, as Oregon lost, 10-7.

After graduating from Oregon in 1958, Robinson served six months in the Army as an ROTC officer (second lieutenant), before returning to the Ducks to coach.

Robinson and wife Barbara now live in La Habra, Calif., with their two daughters, Teresa, 16, and Lynni, 15; and two sons, David, 13, and Christopher, 9.

A Talk With John Robinson . . .

Why did you choose your profession?

"I realized I sure wasn't going to revolutionize football as a player, so I turned all my thoughts to coaching."

What was your greatest moment as a player?

"Playing for Oregon, I went into the 1958 Rose Bowl game against Ohio State for the last seven seconds. They were leading, 10 to 7, and had the ball. The quarterback took the snap, fell on it, and the game was over."

"Obviously, they were afraid of me."

Now you're a head coach in your first year. How do you like your job?

"I like it very much. The tradition here is the greatest in America, and I'm following a coach, John McKay, who enhanced that great tradition. Our players from the past, for example, are tremendously loyal and tremendously involved. They're the best recruiters for any program."

"We have another advantage at USC. We have players who come here expecting to be champions."

Obviously, you're excited about USC.

"Listen, when you talk to a young man about going to USC, you're dealing with one of his dreams, one of his fantasies. It's an incredible opportunity. People choose this university because USC is a winner — and we recruit that way."

"We tell them, 'You have a chance to belong to a school, to a football team, that is second to none.' "

Do you like recruiting?

"Yes, I enjoy recruiting. You're talking about something pretty important to the player and to yourself. You're not talking about something mundane.

"It's exciting to personalize who's going to be on your team. Most of my experiences have been very pleasant."

Did you miss college football in your season (1975) with the Oakland Raiders?

"Yes, I liked it very much with the Raiders, but I really missed the Trojan horse."

Really?

"You're darn right. The horse, the band, the song girls — there's a tremendous aura around college football. It's unique. Comparing it with professional football is like comparing apples and oranges. They're different things.

"College football is so much more involved with pageantry and being part of an exciting environment — the university. And one of the other exciting things is the player turnover. I enjoy meeting all the new faces each year."

What about coaching? What differences are there between college and pro coaching?

"Probably the biggest difference is that in college you're dealing with the total person. You're concerned about his academic career, his social life and so on. In pro football you just deal with a man in an athletic framework. It's a business relationship.

"But there's not much difference in the actual coaching. You treat a man the same whether he's 28 years old or 18 years old. You treat him with respect."

How important is teaching football for a head coach?

"A coach who doesn't fancy himself as a teacher is really not fulfilling his responsibility. I've felt very strong, going way back, that teaching is the crucial factor in coaching — teaching skills and exactly how to perform.

"As soon as you begin to assume somebody has mastered all the techniques or learned all there is, you immediately see a decline in performance. You must make a player reach his potential. If you can make a person believe he's capable of doing it, he can."

USC has been famous for the success of its I-formation in general and tailbacks in particular. Are you changing the offense at all?

"USC's running attack has been second to none over the last decade — and we feel the I-formation and the power running game is going to be a very important part of our offense, too. There's no question the I is still the best formation to run from.

"But we'll be flexible. All offenses evolve, and we want ours to do that, too.

"For example, we want to get our backs more involved in the passing game. Occasionally, the I-formation limits that. So we'll shift from the I sometimes and be in a variety of sets."

What is your biggest offensive goal?

"We want to make the quarterback position more successful. For many years the USC tailback has been the best single position in college football. We're trying to create a similar environment for the quarterback.

"For us to have a great offensive team, whoever is our quarterback must be successful."

Does that mean USC may run less and throw more in 1976?

"Not necessarily. To be great the first thing you have to do is run. And if you play us to pass, we'll run the ball all day. We're still going to use Ricky Bell to the maximum. Conversely, if you play us to run, we'll throw all day. We want to establish both the run and the pass.

"When you recall the great USC teams you remember their offense could attack equally well by both land and air. A balanced offense doesn't mean any of that 50-50 nonsense, either. It simply means that if someone overplays against the run or pass, you immediately hurt them by attacking the other way.

"However, we want to be careful. We don't want to be so balanced that we're average at both."

You filmed every spring practice. Is practice filming that important?

"I think filming practices is a vital part of what we do. It helps evaluate the players quicker. And if you're a player, there's no better way to learn than by watching yourself make mistakes."

You also had open practices every day last spring. Why?

"College football suffers from a lack of intimacy. We're not a professional team, we're part of the campus. It's good for students to be involved with us, and it's good for all the other fans to be involved, too.

"You watch our players running around in the Coliseum, and it's hard to distinguish between them and the Rams. Down on that field wearing the uniform and helmet, they could just as easily be 30 years old. But when our guys take their helmets off, you can see they're only 19 or 20. I like our fans to see our players as young, not older, men.

"Too often we tend to take our teams and isolate them from the rest of the university. In the spring I wanted people on the campus to have a chance to just wander in and look. I really think we have one of the most exciting classrooms in our school."

Will the practice field be open before games, too?

"No, because then we're actually preparing for a specific opponent. And at that time you have to have privacy."

Can you influence your players very much off the field?

"I think the college coach's chief responsibility is to help the player — unless we're all lying when we recruit. Every coach in America says, 'We'll take care of your son.'"

"You have to spend a lot of time motivating players to go to class as well as to play football. We recruit ambitious young men, but often it's a very narrow ambition early — geared solely to sports. Pretty soon, however, we hope to make them more aware of the value of getting that education, and aware of the other opportunities available to them.

"I don't want players ambitious just about football, I want them ambitious about life."

You must feel strongly about this.

"Well, think about it. We coaches play a vital role in the players' lives. In a way we're father figures.

"Our society is so complex right now that there are greater differences in learning levels among the students who come to a university. It demands that we become more involved with each one. I think we in the coaching profession can do a better job motivating players than we have in the past."

Is this motivation one of the most challenging things about college coaching?

"Yes it is. To see a young man improve as an athlete over his four years is rewarding, but to see him improve as a human being, to see him graduate from the university, to see him gain confidence as a person — the blossoming that both the university and our football program contribute to — that really is exciting.

"Certainly some of them fail and we fail with some of them. But to see the others blossom into men — and really proud, confident, talented men — there isn't anything more enjoyable or exciting than that."

ASSISTANT COACHES

MARV GOUX

Overall Defense

Defensive Line

Marv Goux, now 44, has become a USC legend.

Named overall defensive coach for the Trojans by new coach John Robinson, Goux is in his 20th year as a USC coach. Long considered one of the nation's more inspirational coaches, Marv was one of only two assistants to work the entire John McKay era, when the Trojans won four national titles and went to eight Rose Bowls.

Goux first became a USC assistant back in 1957 under Don Clark. For three years he was both head freshman coach and varsity assistant, before moving up to the varsity full-time when McKay took over in 1960.

Except for a season as a high school coach, Marv has been a Trojan since 1952, when he started at linebacker for the USC Rose Bowl team that blanked Wisconsin, 7 to 0. Before he was through as a player, Goux had started three years, including 1954 and 1955, when he went both ways, performing at both linebacker and center.

Small at 5-10 and 185 pounds, Goux made up for his lack of size with quickness and great desire. He is one of just two Trojans to twice win the Davis-Teschke Award, given annually to USC's most inspirational player. Marv won that honor in 1954 and 1955, after coming back from a back injury that sidelined him for all of 1953.

Following graduation, Marv returned to Ventura County and spent one year as head coach at Carpinteria High School. His team reeled off a 9-1 record and went to the 1956 small school CIF finals.

FOSTER ANDERSEN

Outside Linebackers

Foster Andersen, who has both played and coached in the Rose Bowl, is in his second year as an assistant coach on the USC staff.

Former head coach at Cal State Los Angeles for three years (from 1971 to 1973), Andersen was a part-time assistant under John McKay in 1974, when the Trojans won the national championship and the Rose Bowl game.

McKay elevated Foster to full-time assistant in 1975, and he stayed on the staff when new coach John Robinson assumed the job.

Foster was a three-year starter at both offensive and defensive tackle for cross-town rival UCLA, playing in the 1962 Rose Bowl against Minnesota. He played under Bill Barnes from 1959 to 1961.

A graduate assistant at UCLA in 1962, Andersen also earned a master's degree in history, before going on to Pasadena City College where he spent one year as an assistant.

From 1964 to mid-1967, Andersen served four years in the Army. He spent one of those years as a military adviser in Vietnam, rising to the rank of captain.

When he was discharged from the service, Andersen spent one more season as an assistant at PCC, two years as defensive coordinator at East Los Angeles College (1968-69) and one season as defensive coordinator at Cal State L.A. (1970), before assuming the head coaching job in 1971.

Born March 11, 1940 in Los Angeles, Andersen was also an All-CIF guard at Alhambra High School.

PAUL HACKETT

Quarterbacks, Receivers

Paul Hackett may be the youngest coach on the USC staff, but he's already had national impact as a teacher of the passing game.

In three years at California, he coached All-American quarterback Steve Bartkowski, the nation's leading passer in 1974; and Joe Roth, the Pac-8's total offense and passing leader in 1975.

The 29-year-old Hackett was one of four new Trojan coaches hired by John Robinson, shortly after he took over. He coaches the quarterbacks and passing game at USC.

Under Hackett, Bartkowski came into the 1974 season as an ex-second stringer, but exploded to pass for 2,580 yards and 12 touchdowns. He completed 56 per cent of his passes and had only 7 of 325 throws intercepted. He became the NFL's first draft choice.

In 1975 Roth came to Cal from junior college and under Hackett's direction, the new Cal quarterback passed for 1,880 yards and 14 TD's, completing 53.4 per cent of his passes in leading the Pac-8.

Hackett spent a total of four years at California, one as graduate assistant coach and one coaching the receivers, including all-time Bear greats Steve Rivera and Wesley Walker.

Paul was a quarterback himself at the University of California at Davis, where he was a three-year starter and led the Far Western Conference in passing as a senior. He was first team all-conference his last season.

He coached three years at U.C. Davis, assisting with the freshmen one season and then directing the frosh to a combined 13-0 record in 1970 and 1971.

Born July 5, 1947, Hackett earned a bachelor's degree in history at U.C. Davis and a master's in physical education at Sacramento State.

HUDSON HOUCK

Offensive Line

When John Robinson became USC's head football coach in 1975, the first man he hired was Hudson Houck.

The 33-year-old Houck came to USC after four years at Stanford, the last three as offensive line coach (1973 to 1975), but it was also a homecoming. He was a former Trojan player and freshman coach.

Born January 7, 1943, Hudson played and coached under John McKay. He was a reserve center on the national championship Trojan team of 1962, then started the last four games and lettered in 1963. Heavily counted on in 1964, Houck injured his back and played sparingly, the bad back keeping him from lettering.

A 1965 graduate of USC with a bachelor's degree in physical education, Houck was an assistant football coach and teacher at Crescenta Valley High School in 1967 and 1969. His career was interrupted twice by service in the Army.

He came back to USC the first time in 1970 and spent two seasons as head freshman coach and varsity graduate assistant. His 1971 Frosh went 4-0.

SKIP HUSBANDS

Offensive Line

USC has been famous for its great running backs for years, and Skip Husbands, who coached the offensive line that blocked for many of those backs, returns for his sixth year on the Trojan staff.

Now 35, Skip has coached five All-American linemen at USC, including Marvin Powell, Pete Adams, Booker Brown, Steve Riley and Bill Bain.

Husbands came to USC from Arizona Western College, where from 1968 to 1970 he coached the offensive and defensive line for teams that had a combined 26-4 record. Included among his linemen were future Trojan All-Americans Charlie Weaver and Willie Hall.

Husbands was a three-year letterman at middle linebacker for Utah State, starting and winning the team's "Hustle Award" as a senior in 1963. Utah State lost only five games those three years, and two of Skip's teammates were future pros Bill Munson and Lionel Aldridge.

Husbands began his coaching career at Utah State in 1964, working as a graduate assistant to Tony Knapp, while earning a master's degree in physical education. He then spent three years as an assistant coach at Las Vegas (Nev.) High School, helping to direct the team to an overall 25-9 record, before moving to Arizona Western.

JOHN JACKSON

Offensive Backs

When John Robinson went searching for a backfield coach, he went all the way to Illinois. That's where he found 40-year-old John Jackson, six years an assistant for one of the nation's winningest coaches, Bob Blackman.

Jackson first joined Blackman at Dartmouth in 1970, coaching the backs and receivers for a team that went 9-0-0. When Blackman moved to Illinois in 1971, he took Jackson with him, and for five seasons, John coached the backfield for the Illini.

Previously, in 1968 and 1969, Jackson was offensive coordinator for the football team and head coach of the track team at Hofstra.

He had a successful high school career, coaching Boys High School in Brooklyn from 1965 to 1967, where he was twice named New York metropolitan Coach of the Year and led Tech to the city championship in 1966. While coaching at Boys High, he was also Dean of Students at his old school, Brooklyn Tech.

A 1956 graduate of NYU, Jackson earned bachelor's and master's degrees there in physical education.

He was a five-year teacher and assistant football coach at Brooklyn Tech, served in the Marines three years (attaining the rank of captain) and then moved on to Boys High.

DON LINDSEY

Inside Linebackers

At 33, Don Lindsey is still a young man, but already he has worked under some of the greatest coaches in college football.

Now in his sixth year on the USC staff, Lindsey has coached under Bear Bryant at Alabama, Frank Broyles at Arkansas, and, of course, five years under John McKay at USC. Don was one of four assistants who decided to stay at USC with new coach John Robinson.

Lindsey began his coaching career at Alabama under Bryant in 1965, spending two seasons as offensive and defensive backfield coach, respectively, while also earning his master's degree in education.

While Lindsey was at Alabama, the Crimson Tide won the national championship in 1965 and wound up ranked third in 1966 while compiling an 11-0 record. Don coached quarterback Scott Hunter who broke several of Joe Namath's passing records.

From Alabama Lindsey went to Montana State, where he served as defensive coordinator under Jim Sweeney in 1967. He then moved to Washington State with Sweeney for the 1968 and 1969 seasons, serving as offensive coordinator.

Before coming to USC in 1971, Don spent one year at Arkansas under Broyles, where he coached the defensive backs.

BOB TOLEDO

Secondary

Bob Toledo is one of those rare combinations in football — a great athlete who also became a successful coach.

Just before coming to USC as one of John Robinson's four new assistant coaches, the 30-year-old Toledo led University of California at Riverside to successive undefeated league championships (CCAA).

And as a quarterback at San Francisco State, Toledo was not only a College Division All-American in 1967, but he set and still holds eight NCAA passing and total offense records.

Bob's NCAA records, all set in 1967, include most touchdown passes in a season (45), most yards passed for in a single game (568), most yards passed for in a season (3,513), most passing yards gained per game (351.3) and highest total offense in a season (3,407 yards).

Before transferring to San Francisco State for the 1966 and 1967 seasons, Toledo earned JC All-American honors as quarterback at San Jose City College in 1965, after starting for the San Jose State freshmen in 1964.

Following a brief trial with the San Francisco 49ers in 1968, Toledo began his coaching career at San Francisco's Riordan High, where he served one year as an assistant and three seasons (1970 to 1972) as head coach. He guided Riordan to a 26-5-1 record and won two West Catholic Athletic League championships.

Moving to U.C. Riverside in 1973, Toledo was the offensive coordinator for an 8-2 team that was fourth in the nation in total offense. As Riverside's head coach in 1974 and 1975, Bob turned in 8-3 and 7-3 records and finished ninth and sixth in the nation in total offense (NCAA Division II). His 1974 team was also 10th in defense nationally.

NORVAL TURNER

Former Oregon quarterback Norval Turner, 24, is in his first year as a part-time coach on John Robinson's staff. Turner was a graduate assistant at Oregon last year after graduating from that university in June, 1975.

Norval lettered three years at Oregon and was the starting quarterback his last two seasons. He ranks eighth on the all-time Duck passing list with 99 completions of 202 attempts for 1261 yards.

MIKE HALUCHAK

Ex-USC linebacker Mike Haluchak is the newest addition to John Robinson's staff as a part-time coach.

Haluchak was a three-year letter winner for the Trojans from 1968 thru 1970. He earned UPI All-Coast honorable mention honors one year. He tried out with the Rams in 1973 and was the last linebacker cut, then played the 1974 season in Canada with the British Columbia Lions.

He received his teaching credential in 1972 and has taught at four high schools the past four years.

ATHLETIC STAFF

DR. RICHARD H. PERRY Athletic Director

In the athletic director's office at USC there's no hint of an energy crisis.

In less than a year as athletic director, 47-year-old Dick Perry has set a pace that a Trojan trackman might have trouble following.

Taking over his new job in November, 1975, Dr. Perry has impressed everyone with his sharp organizational skill in maintaining — and in some cases upgrading — the quality of USC's expanding athletic program.

In administering a program that now has 21 teams — 14 men's and 7 women's — Dick has met with more people, made more speeches, answered more urgent phone calls and solved more problems than anyone this side of a presidential candidate.

At the time he was appointed athletic director by USC president Dr. John Hubbard, Dick was an associate professor of physical education at USC, a post he had held for eight years. He had also been involved in the university's leadership. A member of the faculty senate for six years, he served as president of that body in 1974-75.

And, of course, he brought a strong background in athletics to his new job. Before coming to USC, he was head basketball coach at California State University, Long Beach, for nine years and also spent three seasons there as assistant football coach.

In 1975-76, he served as president of the Southwest District of the American Alliance for Health, Physical Education and Recreation, which covers six Western States. He was president of the California Association for Health, Physical Education and Recreation in 1971-72.

When Dr. Perry became head basketball coach at Long Beach in 1958, there was no scholarship help and the team was playing exclusively small colleges. He built the program to a level where the 49ers were playing intersectional games with such teams as Oklahoma State, Wichita State and Creighton and playing doubleheaders at the Long Beach Arena with USC and UCLA.

His Long Beach team reached the finals of the College Division Western Regional playoffs in 1960.

Dick left Cal State, Long Beach when offered an associate professorship at USC in 1967 and received his Ph.D. degree from USC in 1968.

The athletic director was born July 13, 1929. He graduated from Long Beach Wilson High School and received his bachelor's degree from the College of Emporia in Kansas in 1951 and his master's degree from Kansas State Teachers College.

Dr. Perry and his wife, Donna, live in Garden Grove. They have four children: Jim, 25, a graduate of USC and now a coach at Crescenta Valley High School; Joan, 20, a USC sophomore; John, 18, a freshman at USC; and Janelle, 10.

VIRGIL LUBBERDEN

Associate Athletic Director

Around Christmas time every year, there is someone almost as busy as Santa Claus. He's Virgil Lubberden, one of USC's three associate athletic directors.

Besides his USC duties, Lubberden is the game manager for the Rose Bowl, the granddaddy of all the New Year's Day classics. He made his Rose Bowl debut as manager in 1963 when USC beat Wisconsin in that memorable 42-37 game. After several years of alternating as Rose Bowl manager with his UCLA counterpart, Virg was named to the position permanently in 1973.

In his 13th year of managing USC's athletic affairs, Lubberden became an associate athletic director last year. He had served as an assistant athletic director the previous three years.

As the business manager, Virg formulates the USC athletic budget that covers 21 sports. He also arranges all team travel, prepares contracts with opponents in all sports and negotiates rental fees with the Los Angeles Memorial Coliseum for football and Sports Arena for basketball.

His other responsibilities include the purchase of athletic medical insurance, negotiation for radio and television coverage, supervision of game management for home events and assisting in the scheduling of football opponents.

A USC graduate, Lubberden received his bachelor of science degree in business administration in 1949.

NICK PAPPAS

Associate Athletic Director

Nick Pappas is the man behind USC's strong, active athletic support groups. He has served at USC for nearly 25 years and built the Trojan athletic support group into the most successful organization of its type in the nation.

Born in Seattle, Pappas entered USC in 1934 and lettered three years as a tailback for Coach Howard Jones. Following his graduation in 1938, he spent two years in law school and also assisted the Trojan frosh under Julie Bescos in 1936 and Gus Shaver in 1939. He played pro football with the Hollywood Bears in 1938 and 1939.

He scouted for pro clubs for six seasons and for USC two years before becoming a Trojan assistant football coach in 1953. He assumed duties as alumni field secretary in 1957 and became the Director of Trojan Club Affairs and Athletic Fund-Raising in 1959. Two years later, he became Assistant Director of Planning. Since 1962, he has been Director of Athletic Funding consisting of Trojan Club, Cardinal and Gold, Trojaneers, Football Alumni Club, Trojan Coaches Club and Women's Trojan Club.

RAY GEORGE
Assistant Athletic Director

Still ranked as an all-time Trojan line great, Ray George returned to USC in 1971 as assistant athletic director.

Although never gaining consensus All-American mention, George was never outplayed in three years of varsity football at USC. Following his graduation, Ray then played two years of professional football with the Detroit Lions in 1939 and the Philadelphia Eagles in 1940.

Ray first joined the Trojan coaching staff as line coach in 1946 and served in that capacity through 1950. He moved up to the head coaching job at Texas A and M in 1951 and coached the Aggies for three seasons. He retired from the coaching ranks following the 1953 season and went into private business. Don Clark persuaded the popular assistant coach to rejoin the USC staff in 1958. He served as John McKay's senior assistant for five years.

DAVE LEVY
Assistant Athletic Director

Dave Levy, following 16 years as an assistant football coach under John McKay, is now in his first year as a full-time assistant athletic director at USC.

Levy was named to his present position in December of 1975 by new athletic director Dr. Richard Perry. He served as both an assistant A.D. and assistant football coach the past four years.

The genial Levy came to Troy following a highly successful three-year coaching career at Long Beach Poly High School. In the three years he was at Long Beach, the Jackrabbits compiled a 28-1-1 record, winning the CIF championship in 1958 and 1959.

A 1950 graduate of Long Beach Poly High, Levy played football two years at Long Beach City College and lettered at guard at UCLA in 1952-53.

BARBARA HEDGES
Associate Athletic Director

In 1974, USC expanded its women's inter-collegiate athletic program by naming 38-year-old Barbara Hedges as a full-time assistant athletic director in charge of women's athletics.

One of the first — if not the first — woman assistant athletic directors in the country, Barbara is in charge of seven sports — basketball, track and field, volleyball, swimming, gymnastics, tennis and golf. She was named an associate athletic director last year.

A graduate of Arizona State in 1963, Barbara earned a master's degree in physical education from the University of Arizona in 1971.

She coached women's gymnastics for nine years, four at West Denver High School in Denver and five at the University of Arizona and also taught physical education at both schools.

JAMES DENNIS

Assistant Athletic Director

Serving as an assistant athletic director under Dr. Richard Perry is only one of the many duties of Dr. James Dennis at USC.

Dr. Dennis, 32, in his fourth year as an assistant A.D., also is involved in three other positions at the university. He is the director of campus life and recreation, an assistant professor in the physical education department and coordinator of the summer sports club.

As assistant athletic director, he supervises all special events hosted by USC, such as the NCAA Tennis Championships and Pacific-8 Track Championships in 1974 and the Pacific-8 Swimming Championships in 1975. He also assists in the administration of the crew, golf, gymnastics, sailing, skiing, soccer and volleyball programs.

Dr. Dennis received his doctor's degree in athletic administration from USC. While working on that degree, he served as an assistant swimming coach for Peter Daland's Trojan teams from 1971 thru 1973.

JIM PERRY

Sports Information Director

Jim Perry, who collaborated with former USC coach John McKay on his popular autobiography, McKay: A Coach's Story, is in his third year as sports information director.

Perry, 34, has a background in journalism, radio and television. He came to USC after six years as a sportswriter with the Herald-Examiner, where he covered college football and served as a feature writer on major league baseball, pro basketball, boxing, track and pro football.

A 1964 graduate of USC, Perry wrote sports briefly for radio station KMPC, before spending a year as a sportswriter with UPI, and then 14 months as assistant USC sports information director in 1966 and early 1967.

He also worked six months as sports producer at Channel 5 in Hollywood, putting together nightly sports-casts for Dick Enberg and Keith Jackson.

Perry assumed his present job in January, 1974. He is assisted by Russell Ewald.

JACK WARD — Head Trainer

Begins his 18th year as head trainer . . . served one year as assistant trainer before his promotion . . . has worked under three USC head coaches — Don Clark, John McKay and John Robinson . . . a graduate of the University of Nebraska, he worked at his alma mater for four years as an assistant trainer and one year as a physical therapist for the County Health Department in Sacramento . . . assisted by Paul Williams, Buck Muir and Dave Maurer.

GEORGE YABLONSKY — Head Equipment Manager

In his ninth year as the head equipment manager . . . came to USC after working as equipment manager at Santa Ana and Orange Coast Junior Colleges . . . served in the Marines . . . assisted by Bill Sutton and Carl Lundgren.

1976 USC PROSPECTUS

EVANS

They've only been away for one season, but USC's Trojans would like to go back to the Rose Bowl — as quickly as you can say John Robinson.

"We should have a good team," says Robinson. "Heck, we have a chance to have an outstanding team. Every player who comes here expects to be a champion. Our goal is to be a champion again."

Under Robinson's predecessor, John McKay, the Trojans usually fulfilled their goal. From 1962 on, they won four national and nine Pac-8 titles, went to eight Rose Bowls and were undefeated three times. Before last year's disappointing 8-4 season, they had gone to seven Rose Bowls in nine years.

An enthusiastic, optimistic man of 41 in his first year as USC coach, Robinson is no stranger to USC or success. When he moved to USC the first time back in 1972 he was offensive coordinator for the only team ever to be chosen unanimous national champions. In three seasons as McKay's offensive coordinator (1972-74), Robinson was associated with teams that went 31-3-2, won two national titles, marched to three Rose Bowls and averaged 32 points a game. Last year he was offensive backfield coach for the Oakland Raiders who went to the AFC title game.

Although the Trojans lost four straight games after a 7-0 start last year, Robinson has a big win to build on and a flock of talented, experienced players to build with.

The big win came in the Liberty Bowl, where Heisman Trophy candidate Ricky Bell led USC to a 20-0 blitz of Texas A&M, the nation's leading defensive team.

And the experience? Including the unanimous All-American Bell, the Trojans return 14 starters — eight on offense and six on defense — and 28 lettermen. Only 14 lettermen and eight starters have graduated.

"Our players were not happy about what happened last year," says Robinson, "and their intensity in spring practice was tremendous. So I see similarities between this team and the one in 1972. That was also a hungry veteran team with a lot of guys who didn't play as well as they should have as juniors. But we do have tangible problems this season:

"We have to get effective performances from our quarterbacks, particularly in our passing game. Last year the quarterback position was a failure.

"We have to rebuild the weak side of our offensive line. Our starters at weak tackle, weak guard and center are all unproven.

"And we must replace both of our inside linebackers and half of our secondary.

"We've got a lot of work to do. All of USC's losses last season can't be blamed on psychological reasons."

By "psychological reasons," Robinson refers to the aftermath of McKay's late-season announcement that he was leaving to coach Tampa in the NFL. The Trojans were 7-0 at the time, ranked fourth, had a 28-game Pac-8 unbeaten streak, 25-game home unbeaten streak — and didn't win again until the Liberty Bowl.

In truth, however, injuries also caught up with USC. In 1975 the Trojans lost 14 starters for at least one game, six of those for the season. Still, they lost three of their four games by a total of just seven points.

Led by Bell, the entire offensive backfield returns, but because of uncertainty at quarterback and in the offensive line, Robinson says his defense, which does have experienced replacements, must be good right away.

"We could have a great defense," says the coach, "but it's very important that it's great early in the season. We have excellent defensive speed, and we're going to try to utilize it as much as we can."

Offensively, USC passed for only 919 yards last year, completing just 35 per cent. The tireless Bell, the nation's leading rusher, accounted for an incredible 50 per cent of USC's total offense with his 1,957 yards on the ground. The 6-2, 218-pounder's total also represented 65 per cent of all USC's rushing yards.

Senior quarterback Vince Evans goes into fall as No. 1 — he had his best game in the Liberty Bowl — but Vince, a powerful, quick runner, must improve his passing to hold off junior Rob Hertel, who directed victories over Iowa and Washington State when Evans sat out with a thumb injury, and junior Walt Ransom, a JC honorable mention All-American selection who led East Los Angeles JC to a 16-2-2 record, before being injured in the ninth game of his sophomore year.

Also returning are senior fullback Dave Farmer, who boasts a 7.4 career rushing average and started the first two games before breaking a leg, and junior fullback Mosi Tatupu who started the last 10 and was USC's No. 2 rusher with 425 yards and a 5.2 average.

"We have two outstanding fullbacks," says Robinson. "Both are excellent blockers, but they also run and catch well, and we're going to do more things to get them the ball."

There's an interesting fight behind Bell for the No. 2

tailback job with the candidates including four juniors — 1974 California JC Player of the Year Lynn Cain; Dwight Ford, a 9.6 sprinter who has averaged 5.7 yards on 57 USC career carries; Rod Connors, a 46.2 400-meter man and 6-10 high jumper; and Kurt Hollmer, who can also play fullback. Injuries could be a factor. Cain had knee surgery late last season and was held out of spring contact. Ford was hurt the last day of spring drills and also had knee surgery.

Also back are both of last year's starting wide receivers, junior split end Randy Simmrin and senior flanker Shelton Diggs. Simmrin, USC's leading catcher with 26 for 478 yards and an 18.4 average, had at least one reception in every game. Diggs, knocked out late in the season with shoulder surgery, has a 22.7 career average per catch.

Senior strongside tackle Marvin Powell, a first team All-American, and senior strong guard Donnie Hickman, also blessed with great ability, are the two starters back in the offensive line. However, none of the men listed No. 1 at center, senior Gene Lawryk; weak guard, sophomore Pat Howell; and weak tackle, either redshirt junior Bruce Brooks or junior Otis Page, have ever lettered.

Senior Mike Howell, last year's starter at tight end for eight games, also returns, but junior letterman William Gay, who started the last four, was listed No. 1 going into fall drills. Howell comes off spring knee surgery.

Offensive starters who graduated include center Greg Beard, weakside guard Joe Davis and weakside tackle Melvin Jackson.

The six defensive starters back include senior second team All-American tackle Gary Jeter and junior Walt Underwood, his tackle sidekick who was second team All-Pac-8; senior outside linebackers David Lewis and Rod Martin, junior inside linebacker Mario Celotto, senior rover Clint Strozier (a safety in 1975) and senior cornerback Ron Bush. Celotto and Martin count as one returning starter, since Mario started the first half of the season (at outside linebacker) before knee surgery, and Martin the last half.

Lewis, USC's leading tackler last season, runs 4.65 in the 40, and Martin, the third leading tackler, runs 4.7. Jeter, a four-year starter who has thrown 25 runners for losses in his career, and Underwood, who nabbed seven for losses last season, also run 4.7. Strozier was USC's leading interceptor last season with five.

Other starters going into fall drills included senior letterman Harold Steele at nose guard, junior letterman Clay Matthews and senior letterman Eric Williams at inside linebackers, junior letterman Dennis Thurman at safety, and either senior letterman Mike Burns or junior non-letterman Ricky Odom at the other cornerback. Burns, however, had spring knee surgery for torn cartilage. Robinson lists Celotto, Matthews and Williams all as starters at the two inside linebacker spots, because they're expected to share the time equally.

The five defensive starters gone include second team All-American cornerback Danny Reece, the nation's No. 2 punt returner; All-Coast inside linebacker Kevin Bruce and Dale Logie, the other inside backer; rover Doug Hogan and nose guard Tim Rhames.

"Besides offense and defense," says Robinson, "we must also develop outstanding special teams. We want eager, aggressive players who care about those jobs."

The Trojans have a potentially great kicker, senior Glen Walker, who does all the punting, place kicking and kicking off. Glen kicked eight field goals and averaged 39.3 yards a punt last season.

Meet Heisman Trophy Candidate Ricky Bell

Born: April 8, 1955
Birthplace: Houston, Texas
Age: 21

Height: 6-2
Weight: 218
Class: Senior
Major: Speech
Number: 42

In 1975 — his first year ever at tailback — Ricky Bell led the nation in rushing with the second highest total in NCAA history. A unanimous All-American and No. 3 finisher in the Heisman Trophy race, Bell ran for 1,875 regular season yards, falling just six short of Ed Marinaro's all-time mark.

Before the season started, Bell honestly admitted he was petrified to be following in the running shoes of such former Trojan tailbacks as Heisman Trophy winners O. J. Simpson and Mike Garrett and Heisman runner-up Anthony Davis. Yet, when the year ended, he had destroyed Simpson's all-time Pacific-8 rushing record of 1,709 yards.

Counting the Liberty Bowl, Ricky Bell ran for 1,957 yards, scored 14 touchdowns, and, although he didn't return kicks, still finished second in the country in all-purpose running. His regular season rushing total was 518 yards MORE than 1975's Heisman Trophy winner, Archie Griffin.

But to assess the man, you must know more than the cold statistics. You must know he worked for an offense that — as the season wore on — was devastated by the loss of five starters. You must know that he worked for an offense that completed only 35 per cent of its passes. And you must know that opposing teams simply began ignoring the quarterback and blitzing him with linebackers and defensive backs while he was still taking handoffs in the backfield.

And still Bell averaged 32 carries a game, 5.1 yards a carry, and rolled up three games over 200 yards and seven others over 100. He failed to crack 100 only against Purdue, when he ran for 89 with a severely bruised knee, and against Texas A&M, leading defensive team in the nation, when he got 82. A&M didn't escape, however. In the same game he took a short screen pass from Vince Evans and darted through half the Aggie team on the 76-yard touchdown play that broke open the Liberty Bowl and insured USC's 20-0 victory.

"This year," says his coach, John Robinson, "he'll catch a lot more passes. We want to get him the ball in the open and dare anyone to stop him."

From the beginning last season Bell showed he was bound for greatness. He shook off that pre-game nervousness before the opener with Duke and went out and shattered USC's 19-year-old, single-game rushing record, ripping off 256 yards and scoring 4 touchdowns. (The old mark was 251 by C. R. Roberts in 1956.) Bell clobbered the record with remarkable double-figure consistency. In the first half he had runs of 11, 11, 11, 15 and 24 yards. In the second he came back with gains of 21, 12, 14, 17, 13 and 10. The record was snapped on a six-yard, first down run off right tackle.

Incredibly, Bell's running accounted for 65% of USC's rushing attack and 50% of the Trojans' total offense. And his totals don't reflect runs of 73 yards (against Washington), 46 (California), 40 for a touchdown (Washington State) and 36 (Iowa) — all nullified by penalties.

If the criterion for selection of a Heisman Trophy candidate is all-around football ability, Bell is as versatile as a magician. He can play anywhere you want him to.

In 1973, USC was loaded with Anthony Davis and a host of other veteran tailbacks, so Bell played outside linebacker on defense and was one of just three freshmen to letter. In 1974, with Davis still at tailback, Ricky went to fullback where he quickly learned the plays and stood out as the starter for the national championship team that went 10-1-1 and routed Notre Dame, 55-24. When he got the ball as a sophomore, Bell knew what to do with it. On 45 carries he ran for 299 yards, averaged 6.6 a try, had the team's longest run (59 yards for a TD) and never lost a yard.

In the spring of 1975 McKay moved him to tailback.

Fifth of seven brothers, Bell came to USC from Fremont High, where he earned All-Los Angeles City and Southern League Tri-Player of the Year honors as a senior, gaining 995 yards.

"Ricky Bell has qualities that not many backs in the history of football have had," says John Robinson. "In my memory I can think of only two like him — O. J. Simpson and Jimmy Brown. Like them, Ricky has both power and that ability to make a tackler flat out miss.

"Most of the backs people have thought of as great have been primarily regarded as either elusive backs or power backs. Ricky is both. In fact, he can be both on the same run. Study our films and you'll see him take a tackler head on and run right over him, and then two steps later change direction and make the next one grab air.

"He's got to be considered for the Heisman Trophy, not only for his ability and desire, but because I think he's the kind of human being who should be considered for it. He's an outstanding person whose greatest fans are his teammates — because he really does have humility. He's the kind of man we all like to point to and say, 'Hey, this is a product of what we're doing today in college football.' "

What The Others Said About Bell In 1975 . . .

DAN DEVINE, Notre Dame coach:

"Ricky Bell is a superstar. He could start in the NFL right now. I've coached O. J. Simpson in an all-star game and coached against him in the pros, and Bell is just as strong as O.J.

"I endorse him for the Heisman Trophy."

DICK VERMEIL, UCLA coach:

"This is no knock to Archie Griffin or Chuck Muncie who also played against us, but Bell was the strongest, fastest, most durable and best running back we saw all year. Because USC didn't pass well, we ganged up on Bell, gave him some tremendous shots, did everything but bury him, and still he kept coming. If we'd tackled Muncie and Griffin like that, they wouldn't have finished the game.

"The others were outstanding. But Bell is something else."

MIKE McGEE, Duke coach:

"Bell is as great as any tailback John McKay ever had at USC. How could any others be better?"

STEVE NIEHAUS, Notre Dame All-American tackle:

"Bell is a hell of a runner. He has speed, power and agility — you name it and he's got it. He picks his holes so well, and even where there isn't a hole, he picks out a spot and runs through it. That's the sign of a great back."

ALEX AGASE, Purdue coach:

"Ricky Bell is a super back, and I can't say enough about his ability. You can't hit him high and expect to stop him — he'll just bounce off the tacklers. He not only has great power, he also has great speed and balance."

BOB COMMINGS, Iowa coach:

"Bell is a great runner. It's just damn hard to get him down."

JACK CHRISTIANSEN, Stanford coach:

"All the superlatives you can think of apply to Bell. He's a super back."

JIM SWEENEY, Washington State coach:

"Bell's not only a great runner, he's also an excellent all-around player. As a sophomore fullback in 1974 he blocked better against us than anybody I've ever seen."

JOHN MCKAY, USC coach:

"I've had a lot of great running backs, and I think I know something about them. Bell doesn't have any weaknesses. He's fast, tough, big, strong, and has tremendous power and acceleration. He absolutely shatters defensive backs.

"He's like O. J. Simpson — he doesn't get down on himself when he doesn't run for a touchdown on his first three or four carries. He might even be thrown for a loss, but he won't slam the ball down in disgust; he'll just jog back to the huddle. Two or three plays later, you might not get him at all."

A Talk With Ricky Bell . . .

Ricky, when did you first get interested in football?

"I didn't play when I was young in Houston, because everybody used to beat me in every sport I tried. My cousins laughed at me and teased me, and I couldn't out-run them.

"At first, I wasn't into watching or reading about sports, either, but I remember seeing the USC-UCLA football game in 1967 which O. J. Simpson won with a long fourth quarter run. (USC's 21-20 win clinched the national title.) That helped get me interested in football.

"My first organized playing was flag football when I was about 13 and living in Los Angeles. I always wanted to be a running back and identified with all the good ones — Simpson, Jimmy Brown, Steve Owens, Gale Sayers, Ed Marinaro."

What were you like as a child?

"I was anemic and skinny, although I don't remember feeling sick. I do remember my mother insisting I eat a lot of meat, fruit and vegetables. I was still skinny — about 5-9 and 150 — when I started at Edison Junior High in Los Angeles. But I started lifting weights through the inspiration of my PE teacher, Mr. Richard Adams, and I got bigger and stronger. Why did Mr. Adams inspire me? He was about 50 years old, and he looked like Hercules."

Because your parents were divorced when you were 5, your mother (Ruthie Lee Tatum, which is her maiden name) had to raise you. What was she like?

"She was a strong person who knew where I was every minute. Undoubtedly, she's been the greatest influence on my life. She was very fair, but she was strict. Sometimes I'd tell myself, 'I wish I were dead,' so she'd have to feel sorry for me. But I guess all kids feel like that once in a while.

"One time I asked her if I could go swimming with my cousins and she said no. I really got mad. But it turned out there was a big brawl at the swimming pool, and my cousins never did swim. My mother must have sensed that. I think she had ESP.

"When I told her I was going to play football at Fremont, I could tell by her expression she didn't like it. She was worried. You should have seen her glare when I got a cut on my eyelid that took seven stitches.

"Now she talks about football more than I do. I have to get away from her. She's always saying, 'What happened on this play?' 'What happened on that play?' On and on. It drives me crazy."

We understand you have a famous brother.

"I have four older and two younger brothers, and one of the older ones, Archie, who is 32, is the lead singer in the four-man rock-soul group, 'Archie Bell And The Drells.' They had a million seller record in 1968, 'Tighten Up.' Another brother, Lee Travis, also sings with them. But all my brothers are close. Everybody is special in my family."

Before last season you had played two years for USC. Why were you so nervous before your first game at tailback against Duke?

"I thought of all the great backs who had been at USC in the past, and I didn't know if I could step into their shoes. It's a big load to be USC's tailback. We had steak at lunch before the game, but I left about three quarters of it. When I'm nervous I don't eat much. All I did was drink water.

"Finally, I told myself, 'Hey man, if you're gonna play tonight, you can't be scared. You just have to get out there and do it.' When I walked onto the Coliseum field in front of 57,000 people I didn't care what they thought. I just told myself, 'Ricky, stay cool and hold onto the ball.' I sure didn't want to fumble."

Then you gained 256 yards to break USC's single-game rushing record. Did you know at the time?

"I knew. Even the guy who tackled me knew. He congratulated me when he helped me up."

What happened after the game?

"It's funny, but I had been at USC for two years and nobody noticed. Then for three hours work I got more attention than I did for two years. Before the game, for example, I wanted to bring a football home, so I could walk around and get the feel of it. I thought it would help keep me from fumbling. But the equipment manager told me I couldn't take one home.

"Then they gave me the game ball."

You mentioned USC's great heritage of tailbacks, particularly in the last 10 years. Has any one thing impressed you about them?

"Yes. Not one was a scatback. When the Trojan tailback gets tackled, he carries three or four people with him.

"Now I'm a marked man, too, but that's okay. I dig contact. If a guy wants to tackle me, he'll have to pay the price."

Does that mean you try to run over tacklers?

"I don't really make a habit of it. Actually, I try to make the tackler miss by as much as possible. Even half an inch can be important. That little bit could slow me down.

If the tackler doesn't get a full shot, sometimes I can get an extra five yards."

Last year you gained more yards than any runner in USC history. Are records important to you?

"If I just wanted individual accomplishments, I'd go play tennis. That's a one-man sport. Individual efforts are fine, but the main objective in football is for the team to win. As far as I'm concerned, records don't mean anything when you're losing.

"All backs should realize how it's all happening — that while they get the glory it's the guys up front who are making it possible. If I go for 15 yards, it's the whole team going for 15 yards. People who watch only the ball don't understand that."

How do you handle fame?

"I really want to be liked for myself. It still annoys me when my friends introduce me: 'This is Ricky Bell, the USC tailback.'

"When I read descriptions about myself and my background — like you see about movie stars — it sounds like something out of a story book. I've always been shy, and I'm still a little like that. All this fame sometimes seems sort of silly.

"I have a lot more confidence than I used to, but it's not in me to be cocky. I remember where I started from, and I don't think fame will change me. Football is still a dream for me, and right now I'm living in a fantasy world."

Has the amount of publicity you've received affected your relationship with your teammates?

"I don't think so. I think most of the guys on the team like me. They yell, 'That's the way to go, Bulldog,' and they bark when I run. I can also hear guys on our defense shouting, 'Go, Tricky Rick, go!' It makes me feel better when I hear that."

Why do they call you "Bulldog?"

"Because of a crazy growling noise I make when I run. I didn't even know I was doing it. I was embarrassed when I found out."

What do you like to do away from football?

"I still dig getting up in the gym in the off-season and playing basketball. You ought to see some of the games we have — bodies flying all over the place."

How about socially?

"Parties are okay now and then, but really that's not me. I like going out to dinner with a date or seeing a good movie.

"Sometimes I just like to go to the mountains or beach and relax, enjoy nature and think about life. I don't mind being 100 miles from town."

What are your top goals?

"I guess my main one would be to take advantage of all the good opportunities that come my way, but at the same time really help other people. Helping people is the best feeling in the world for me."

Do you get a lot of fan letters?

"I've gotten hundreds and hundreds. But my favorite one was from a man who wrote, 'You're the greatest. You know why? My name's Ricky Bell, too.' "

USC PLAYER SKETCHES

(Players are listed in alphabetical order by position.)

OFFENSE

QUARTERBACKS

(8) VINCE EVANS — 6-2, 204, 21, Sr.

The starter in eight games for the Trojans last year, Vince goes into the fall again listed as No. 1 quarterback — and coming off his best game at USC. In last December's Liberty Bowl, he led the Trojans to their 20-0 upset of the nation's No. 1 defensive team, Texas A&M. Vince ran for 41 yards on 10 carries against the Aggies and had his best USC passing game, hitting 6 of 13 for 174 yards.

In the second quarter, he bombed the Aggies twice, firing 65 yards to Randy Simmrin to put USC on the A&M one and set up the first TD. And then he threw a screen pass to tailback Ricky Bell that went for 76 yards and the last Trojan score.

Evans missed three games last season, sitting out Iowa and Washington State with a severely sprained thumb on his passing hand and missing Washington when Mike Sanford opened at quarterback and went the distance. The thumb injury also kept Vince from starting against Oregon, although he played.

Admittedly an erratic passer in 1975, Evans completed only 31 per cent, but he did connect on a 68-yard TD pass to Junior Lee against Stanford, threw a 21-yard scoring pass to Shelton Diggs in USC's big win at Notre Dame and also had other long gains of 69 yards (to Simmrin, Oregon), 28, 27, 23 and 22 yards.

An agile, elusive scrambler, Evans ran the 40 in 4.7 last spring and is probably one of the best running quarterbacks in USC history. A strong and punishing runner, he got quicker by taking off 15 pounds before his junior year, eating only one meal a day, and kept the weight off. He ran for 246 yards on 104 carries last season, but his average was hurt by several losses attempting to pass. His gross total was 419 yards.

Against California, Vince ran for 60 yards on 16 carries, scoring on a high-kicking 29-yard run. He ran for 55 on 16 carries against Purdue, scoring from 1 and 12 yards out, and netted 41 yards against both Texas A&M and Oregon State. He also scored touchdowns against Notre Dame (2 yards) and UCLA (4 yards).

"Vince had an outstanding spring," says John Robinson, "and I believe he's ready for a great senior year. He just might be the hardest working player on our team — and all phases of his game have improved.

"He's throwing the ball with more consistency and touch, and his running ability certainly gives us an added dimension at quarterback.

"In style and natural ability, he reminds me of Terry Bradshaw of the Steelers."

Evans transferred to USC in the fall of 1974 from Los Angeles City College and immediately won the job as Pat Haden's backup. In his second game (Pittsburgh), he took over at halftime with USC trailing, 7-3, and Haden benched with a slight concussion. Vince played the entire second half and produced the 16-7 win, running 12 times for 66 yards, directing 80 and 78-yard touchdown drives and scoring once from the 13.

A single wing tailback at Benjamin L. Smith High School in Greensboro, N.C., Evans almost signed with North Carolina Central. Dreaming of attending USC, however, ("I was a fan since the days of O. J. Simpson"), he ignored his father's advice and came west to enroll at LACC. In his one JC season, he was named MVP in the state championship game in LACC's 10-10 tie with Fresno. In eight games — he missed three with an injury — Vince passed for 12 touchdowns and ran for 9, completing 92 of 164 passes for 1,270 yards and running for 358.

(6) ROB HERTEL — 6-2, 185, 21, Jr.

Among the host of severe injuries suffered by Trojan players in 1975, Hertel's broken leg in the sixth game (Oregon) was one of the worst. After backing up Vince Evans the first three games, Rob started for the injured Evans against Iowa and rallied USC from a 10-0 deficit to a 27-16 victory. He completed 6 of 14 passes for 121 yards, including a 10-yarder for a TD to Randy Simmrin, and also ran 3 and 6 yards for scores. He opened the second half with four straight scoring drives.

Hertel also quarterbacked the 28-10 defeat of Washington State, completing 4 of 10 passes for 33 yards and scoring on a 2-yard run, before breaking his leg the following week. In other highlights, Rob completed 2 of 2 passes for 46 yards in relief against Oregon State and directed touchdown drives of 63 yards (Duke); 50, 57 and 60 (Iowa); and 30, 71 and 58 (Washington State). His longest pass completion was 47 yards to Simmrin to set up a TD against Iowa.

Hertel missed last spring practice, starting at third base for the baseball team. He led the Trojans in batting (.312), hits (65), total bases (78), games (55) and at bats (208) and was second in RBI's with 28. He also started as a sophomore for the Pac-8 champion Trojans, hitting .284, with a .361 average in league games. As a 1974 freshman, he hit .500 (8-for-16) as a late-season backup for All-American Rich Dauer.

"Rob comes into the season behind because of baseball," says John Robinson, "but he has great ability to make our style of passing game go.

"I still have vivid memories of the way he could move Los Altos High right down the field, controlling the ball with his passing."

Hertel, who is also a good, intelligent runner, led Los Altos to the 1972 CIF 3-A title and was chosen 3-A Player of the Year. He brought his team from behind in the championship game, throwing a touchdown pass and firing for the winning two-point conversion in the 16-15 victory over Santa Maria.

He had an outstanding spring practice in 1974, including a 57-yard touchdown run, but was held out that fall.

Majoring in physical education, Hertel remembers one of his high school games with embarrassment. He walked confidently up to the line of scrimmage and put his hands down for the snap — under the right guard instead of the center.

(10) WALT RANSOM — 6-1, 190, 25, Jr.

In January, 1968, Ransom was the No. 1 draft choice of the Boston Red Sox, a player Ted Williams told, "Kid, with your swing you're going to be a super star." Four years of minor league baseball later, he was driving a catering truck for his father. And suddenly at age 25, he's a quarterback candidate at USC.

Ransom's remarkable career began at South Gate High School back in 1967 when he was the first team All-City quarterback and led South Gate to an Eastern League championship and unbeaten regular season. The next spring he hit .400 as the first team All-City shortstop — and was off to the Red Sox farm system. He was drafted ahead of such current stars as George Foster of Cincinnati and Davey Lopes of the Dodgers.

He once roomed with current Boston catcher Carlton Fisk in the minors, but as a streak hitter he finally failed and left pro baseball. His sports career would have been over, but the NCAA rule allowing athletes to be professionals in one sport and amateurs in another gave him a new chance, and he enrolled at East Los Angeles Junior College.

In 1974, at the age of 23, Ransom teamed up with current USC tailback Lynn Cain to lead East L.A. to the state JC championship. He quarterbacked his team to a 9-1-2 record, completing 46 of 91 passes for 5 touchdowns, a 50.6% average and only 4 interceptions. In the title game, East L.A.'s 33-14 Potato Bowl victory over San Jose City College, Ransom scored on runs of 6 and 14 yards and threw a 12-yard TD pass.

In 1975, without Cain, Ransom sizzled in just eight and a half games, completing 100 of 192 passes (52.1%) for 1,512 yards and 12 touchdowns, had only 5 passes intercepted and directed East L.A. to a 7-1 record before being injured in the ninth game. As a JC sophomore, he also ran for 176 yards and 6 touchdowns. He was picked on the honorable mention All-American team and was second team All-Metropolitan Conference. In school he also made the dean's list. He transferred to USC in the spring of 1976.

"He reminds me of Billy Kilmer (Washington Redskins) in style," says John Robinson. "He's very competitive, has that ability to do the right thing and already understands very well what we're doing."

Predictably, Ransom says his favorite sports hero is another old-timer, George Blanda.

TAILBACKS

(21) LYNN CAIN — 6-1, 204, 21, Jr.

One of the four candidates for No. 2 tailback, Cain would appear to have a great future at USC, if he can shrug off the effects of late-season knee surgery. He took part in spring practice, but was held out of all contact drills.

The 1974 California JC Player of the Year, Cain enrolled last fall as a sophomore and had moved up to No. 2 fullback late in the season when he tore ligaments in practice. As a result he didn't letter.

"If he's healthy, Lynn can be a vital part of our team," says John Robinson. "He's an outstanding runner and receiver. I think he has the potential to be a great tailback — and he could also play fullback again in an emergency."

A first team JC All-American, Cain led East L.A. to a 9-1-2 record and the state championship in 1974, running for 138 yards on 31 carries and scoring once in the 33-14 Potato Bowl victory over San Jose City College. He was also state large schools rushing champion, breaking away for 1,666 yards and 19 touchdowns in a dozen games. He carried 295 times, averaged 5.6 a carry and also caught 7 passes for a 20.1 average and one score. He was chosen MVP in the Southern Conference.

Lynn did not play football in 1973, but was an All-Eastern League defensive back at Roosevelt High in 1972. He returned 4 kickoffs for 61 yards last season at USC.

(17) ROD CONNORS — 6-3, 190, 20, Jr.

Another candidate for No. 2 tailback, Connors spent one week with the football team last spring and then returned to the track team, where he helped the Trojans to their record-setting victory in the Pac-8 track meet. He ran 46.2 to grab third in the 400 meters, high jumped 6-10 to tie for fourth and ran a 46.9 leadoff leg on USC's winning mile-relay team, which did 3:08.6. When USC also won the NCAA championship, Rod ran 47.4 on the leadoff leg of the 1600-meter relay team which scored by finishing sixth.

At tailback last season, Rod never lost a yard, ripping off runs of 18 and 16 yards against Oregon, and also carrying for 11, 7 and 2 yards. He returned one kickoff for 24 yards.

"Rod has outstanding physical gifts," says John Robinson, "and his intensity has really improved in football. He's also an ambitious guy with a lot of courage. We're excited about him."

A Scholastic Coach All-American at California's Rancho Cordova High School, Connors also ran track and played basketball. In one prep game he scored 4 touchdowns. A telecommunications major at USC, Rod enjoys photography and taking long nature hikes. Married, his wife's name is Linda.

(22) DWIGHT FORD — 5-11, 183, 20, Jr.

A reserve letterman for two years, the lightning-quick Ford has averaged 5.7 yards on 57 carries in his USC career and already stands 16th on the all-time Trojan kickoff return list. Going into 1976, he had taken back 16 kickoffs for 341 yards, a 21.3 average and had a long of 39. He's another candidate for the job behind Ricky Bell, but he must recover from a spring knee operation for torn cartilage.

Fourth leading rusher on the 1975 team, Ford had his best game against Iowa with 54 yards on 8 carries, including a 27-yard run. Against Duke he ran for 44 on 7 tries, again breaking a 27-yard run. He caught one pass last season for 14 yards.

A 9.6 sprinter, Ford beat out three other freshmen and lettered in 1974 while backing up Anthony Davis and Allen Carter. Against Stanford he scored on a 3-yard run, and against Washington he bolted through right tackle and shot down the sideline 36 yards for another score. His best USC game was 65 yards on 7 carries that season against Washington State.

Dwight came to USC as a 1973 High School All-American from Bell High, where he was Co-Los Angeles City Player of the Year (with Gardena's Kevin Cole) and broke all of Anthony Davis's city career and season rushing records. He ran for 1,651 yards on 221 carries (7.5 average) as a senior and scored 19 TD's. His three-year career mark is 3,831 yards, including 780 as a sophomore and 1,400 as a junior. He scored 40 touchdowns overall and led Bell into the 1972 City finals.

"He was really coming on at the end of spring practice before he was hurt," says John Robinson. "He's an explosive runner with great instincts who can really help us."

(29) KURT HOLLMER — 5-11, 180, 20, Jr.

Another of the junior tailback candidates, Hollmer was a reserve tailback and fullback in 1975, although he didn't letter. He returned 2 kickoffs for 31 yards and was a regular member of the kickoff teams.

As a 1974 freshman, he ran 14 yards on his only carry — against Notre Dame — after a great high school career at San Ramon in Alamo, Calif. Kurt was an honorable mention All-American and also chosen All-Northern California, after breaking the 16-year-old East Bay League scoring record with 5 touchdowns against Granada High School. He ran for 210 yards in the same game. Kurt also long jumped 23-2 for the track team, was chosen MVP of the basketball team one season and was 1973 Senior Athlete of the Year.

"He really had a good spring," says John Robinson, "and will be in the fight for that second tailback spot. He'll also play a vital role on all our special teams, and if he had to, could play fullback again."

An outdoorsman, Hollmer loves to go fishing with his dad and also enjoys jogging and playing basketball. Ex-decathlon star Bill Toomey is his favorite sports star, "because he's the perfect all-around athlete." Kurt's a physical education major.

(31) BERNARD TARVER — 5-10, 185, 21, Jr.

Listed at both tailback and fullback this season, Tarver was red shirted last fall. As a 1974 non-letterman, he played both tailback and fullback, netting 45 yards on 6 carries. Quick, slippery and strong for his size, he was the leading rusher in the 1974 final spring scrimmage with 81 yards on 17 carries.

The brother of pro football running back John Tarver, Bernard went to Arvin High in Bakersfield, where he also played forward in basketball and triple jumped for the track team. He rushed for 290 yards in one game and gained 1,249 yards as a senior and 1,299 as a junior.

A speech communication major, Tarver enjoys writing music and playing the guitar and piano. He'll never forget the day in high school when he, as left halfback, pulled right, the right halfback pulled left, and they both collided and fell down.

FULLBACKS

(15) DAVE FARMER — 6-2, 210, 22 Sr.

On his way to a great 1975 season, senior Dave Farmer broke a leg against Oregon State in the second game. His injury — the first of many big ones for the Trojans — came on USC's first second half play, as he ran six yards up the middle. In a game and a half, Farmer had run for 56 yards on 10 carries and cut down nearly every defender he faced while leading the way on Ricky Bell's sweeps.

Fortunately for USC, Dave petitioned for another year of eligibility and got it.

Dave has never lost a yard as a Trojan fullback, averaging 7.4 on 44 career carries. He was the biggest surprise on the 1974 national champions. Third string fullback when the season started, he didn't carry the ball in the opener but was given a surprise start against Pittsburgh in the second game and wound up as the team's fourth leading rusher.

Alternating with Bell at fullback that season, Farmer, a shifty, side-stepping runner, netted 271 yards and had the highest average on the team, 8 yards a carry. His best game was the 1975 Rose Bowl, when he dented Ohio State for 67 yards on 7 carries, including a 35-yard burst that set up USC's first TD. He also had 61 yards on 6 carries against Oregon, 45 on 6 tries against Pitt and 30 on 2 carries against Stanford.

"It's a bonus for us to have him back this season," says John Robinson. "He combines excellent running, catching and blocking ability with outstanding competitiveness, and his leadership is crucial to our team. It would be justice for him to have a great season."

Farmer lettered two years with the now-non-existent USC JV's, scoring five touchdowns as a flanker. He told John McKay he would play anywhere if given a chance and put on 15 pounds by lifting weights to get a 1974 fullback shot. He's a psychology major.

The brother of ex-UCLA wide receiver and pro star George Farmer, Dave was born in Phoenix but played basketball (forward), baseball (center field) and football (quarterback and tailback) locally at Workman High. He was all-league in baseball and basketball and All-CIF in football.

"But I'm still embarrassed," says Farmer. "The first pass I ever threw as a high school quarterback hit an official in the head and knocked him down."

(36) MOSI TATUPU — 6-0, 220, 21, Jr.

The second most valuable USC offensive player in 1975 — behind Ricky Bell — was Mosi Tatupu. Only a sophomore, Tatupu stepped in when Dave Farmer broke his leg in the second game and proved virtually indestructible the rest of the way. He started the last 10 games, despite a score of bumps and bruises, and played 290 minutes, fifth highest total on the team.

Mosi spent most of his time blocking for Bell, but was also the Trojans' second leading rusher with 425 yards and a 5.2 average. His scoring runs included tackle-breaking bursts of 16 yards (Duke), 28 (Washington State), 1 (Washington) and also 1 for the first TD in the Liberty Bowl against Texas A&M.

Tatupu's best statistical games included 79 yards on 11 carries in the big win at Notre Dame, 67 on 11 carries against Cal, 61 on 8 tries against Washington State, 43 on 10 plays against Washington and 41 yards against both Duke (5 carries) and Iowa (9 carries).

"Mosi is the best blocking back at USC since Sam Cunningham," says John Robinson. "He doesn't have to bend over to block you. And he's both a good runner and good receiver. Tackling him is like trying to tackle a Coke machine."

Born in Pago Pago, Samoa, Tatupu was an All-American (Coach & Athlete, Scholastic Coach) at Punahoe High School in Honolulu, Hawaii, where he rushed 181 times for 1,483 yards and 21 TD's as a senior to break all Hawaiian records. He gained 174 yards in his first prep game. Mosi also lettered three years as a basketball forward and guard and two years as baseball catcher and outfielder and was named to All-City teams in those sports.

Tatupu, who says his favorite pastimes away from sports are "sleeping" and "relaxing," is majoring in elementary education. His favorite food, he says, is "raw fish," and his favorite sport? "Luaus."

WIDE RECEIVERS

(26) SHELTON DIGGS — 6-2, 200, 21, Sr.

Another of USC's starters knocked out for the season last fall, Diggs had shoulder surgery after the eighth game (California). He goes into the 1976 season as the starting flanker for the third straight year.

Jinxed by injuries throughout his career, including a shoulder separation in the 1974 Rose Bowl, a foot injury during the 1974 season (missed three games) and a broken finger in the spring of 1975, Diggs has caught only 16 passes at USC. But his career average is 22.7 yards a catch and includes 3 touchdowns. He's also carried the ball 19 times for 104 yards (5.5 average).

"Shelton can be as important to us as Lynn Swann was to our 1973 team," says John Robinson. "He worked very hard in the spring and made great improvement. There's no doubt he has great ability."

Diggs caught one touchdown pass last season — a 21-yarder from Vince Evans against Notre Dame — but the greatest play of his career came with 2:03 left in the 1975 Rose Bowl with Ohio State. Quarterback Pat Haden threw low, but Diggs made a diving catch of his two-point conversion pass to beat the Buckeyes, 18-17, and clinch the 1974 national championship.

His best game at USC was 4 catches for 78 yards and a 16-yard scoring grab in the 1974 Notre Dame game. That sophomore season he also caught a 36-yard TD pass against Washington and 57-yard non-scoring toss against Cal.

Shelton earned All-CIF honors in both football and basketball at San Bernardino High School and was also the league champion in the 100 and 220 with marks of 9.7 and 21.8. Playing tailback in football, he rushed for 380 yards and scored 5 touchdowns in one game, including a kick runback of 100 yards.

(27) RON JAMERSON — 6-2, 205, 24, Sr.

Jamerson was a non-letterman flanker last season (played 38 minutes), after being moved from tailback in the spring of 1975. A first team JC All-American at College of the Canyons in Valencia (1973), Jamerson came to USC in the spring of 1974 and first impressed the coaches very much, carrying 25 times in one scrimmage. In the fall he started slowly, then severely pulled a hamstring and sat out the 1974 season.

In junior college, Jamerson rushed for 1,840 yards in two years. He was Western States Conference Player of the Year in 1973, when he carried 239 times for 1,147 yards and 21 TD's. He was the nation's second leading scorer.

As a JC sophomore, Ronnie also led the Cougars in pass receiving with 29 catches for 268 yards, scored 5 touchdowns in one game and 4 in another on a night when he gained 248 yards on 27 carries.

(14) STEVE OBRADOVICH — 6-1, 195, 23, Sr.

Brother of ex-USC starting tight end Jim Obradovich, Steve has played volleyball most of his college career. He was, however, a non-letterman squad member for the football team last year.

A graduate of El Segundo High School where he was student body president, Obradovich was an all-star volleyball player at El Camino JC and also started for the Trojans. A good golfer — 7 handicap — he also enjoys snow skiing and says his biggest sports hero is "Truman Capote." Steve's major is public relations.

(28) KENNY RANDLE — 6-0, 185, 22, Sr.

The NCAA 400-meter champion, Randle goes into fall drills as the No. 2 flanker behind Shelton Diggs.

"Kenny was out at practice for a week this spring, before returning to track and did well," says John Robinson. "But he has to learn a great deal about our passing game in a short time to help us. With his speed, however, we must give him the opportunity to be an important part of our team. He has great physical ability."

Although he lettered as Johnny McKay's backup at split end in 1973 and lettered again behind Randy Simmrin last season, Randle has caught only one pass for the Trojans, a 13-yarder, in 1975. He also returned 2 kickoffs for 28 yards last season, red shirting in 1974.

But, oh that speed. He has a lifetime best of 9.5 in the 100 and 20.5 in the 220, and last spring he was the national champion in the 400 meters, winning in 45.2, after running a school-record 44.99 in a heat — fastest time in the world up to that time. As USC won the NCAA team championship, Randle also ran the third leg for the 400-meter relay quartet (39.51 for third place).

Kenny has twice been the Pac-8 one-lap champion, beating eventual 1975 NCAA champ Benny Brown in 45.5 in the 440 that year, and then winning the 1976 400 meters in 46.0. In leading USC to a third straight Pac-8 title last spring, Randle was also second in the 200 meters (21.3) and ran the third leg on the winning 400-meter relay team (39.9).

Mike goes into the fall listed as No. 2 split end behind Randy Simmrin, after playing only briefly (1975) in his two years at USC. He was redshirted in 1974.

"He should see heavy action as both a receiver and a vital part of our special teams," says John Robinson.

A first team JC All-American at Contra Costa in California, Robinson transferred to USC in spring, 1974. In 1973 at Contra Costa he caught 55 passes for 1,104 yards and 12 touchdowns. His total of 84 points tied him for 11th nationally in scoring, and he averaged 20 yards per catch, including a long play of 91 yards. Against West Valley JC he caught 10 passes for 303 yards.

Mike was Player of the Year in the Camino Norte Conference, Northern California Lineman of the Year and first team All-State. At Cerrito High School he played tight end and defensive end and played every position but first and second base on the baseball team.

A P.E. major, Robinson's biggest sports hero is ex-Kansas City Chief star Otis Taylor, and his nickname is rather unique — "Tweet."

(18) RANDY SIMMRIN — 6-2, 165, 20, Jr.

The only sophomore to open the 1975 season as offensive starter, Simmrin had a remarkable season. Playing split end on a team that completed only 35 per cent of its passes, Randy caught at least one pass in all 12 games and was easily the team's leading receiver with 26 catches and 478 yards.

The next three receivers had only 4 receptions each.

"Randy's one of the best receivers in America," says John Robinson. "He has outstanding speed, runs good patterns and catches very well. He's not big, but he's wiry and tough, and one thing he can really do is come back for an underthrown pass.

"He's a lot like Lynn Swann — he'll do anything to catch the ball. If we get it to him, he'll have an outstanding season."

A high school sprinter and hurdler who also long jumped, Simmrin had long catches last season of 69 yards (Oregon), 65 (Liberty Bowl, Texas A&M), 47 (Iowa) and 27 (Duke). His catch in the Liberty Bowl set up USC's first touchdown. Randy caught 5 passes for 82 yards against UCLA; 4 for 97, including a 10-yard TD pitch, against Iowa; and 3 for 82 against Texas A&M.

Simmrin was a freshman reserve in 1974, although he didn't letter. In 1973 he was the only California prep named to Coach & Athlete Magazine's "Super Eleven" All-American team.

An All-CIF 4-A first team pick for Burroughs High in Burbank, Simmrin caught 49 passes for 852 yards and 9 TD's as a senior. His career totals were 72 for 1,284 yards and 16 touchdowns.

(19) CALVIN SWEENEY — 6-1, 181, 21, Jr.

When University of California, Riverside dropped football after the 1975 season, it was USC's gain. Head coach Bob Toledo, who had won two straight CCAA titles, left and took wide receiver Calvin Sweeney to USC with him.

On a team that had the nation's leading small college receiver, senior Butch Johnson, Sweeney, just a sophomore, was the team's No. 2 catcher with 21 for 274 yards, a 13-yard average per catch and, remarkably, 7 touchdowns. Calvin also ran 5 times for 53 yards (10.6 average) and returned 13 kickoffs for a 21.0 average.

"He's still learning, but Sweeney is going to be an outstanding receiver," says John Robinson. "He has good size and speed, and he can jump."

As a freshman, Sweeney played for Riverside City College, where he was All-Mission Conference, averaged 28 yards a catch, and also played basketball.

TIGHT ENDS

DAN BURNS — 6-4, 230, 21, Jr.

USC's only fall JC transfer, Burns comes from Santa Monica City College, where his coach, Pat Young, called him "the finest offensive blocker in the last 10 years at Santa Monica."

Burns was first team All-Southern California Conference and honorable mention JC All-American at Santa Monica, where he spent one school year, after originally enrolling at Oklahoma State.

Dan is also an excellent baseball player. At St. Bernard's, he was first team All-CIF 3-A at first base in 1973 and hit .489. Last spring at Santa Monica he hit .368 at first base and was named first team All-Southern California Conference.

(86) WILLIAM GAY — 6-6, 225, 21, Jr.

Third string at the beginning of last season, Gay wound up starting the last four games, against Stanford, Washington, UCLA and Texas A&M, and finished as a letterman. Injuries to others gave him his first break, but his own improvement did the rest — and he was listed as No. 1 tight end going into 1976 fall drills.

"He's an excellent blocker, and he's made surprising progress as a receiver," says John Robinson. "Although Bill doesn't have much experience, he's learning fast. If he continues this way, he could be another great USC tight end."

Gay, who has not caught a pass at USC yet, played tight end, center and defensive end at San Diego Hoover High School, but was a full-time outside linebacker in his one season at San Diego City College, making 15 tackles in one game. He transferred to USC in the fall of 1975 and says his favorite hobbies are chess and basketball.

(80) MIKE HOWELL — 6-7, 225, 22, Sr.

Howell started the first eight games at tight end in 1975, before a bruised thigh knocked him out of action and pushed William Gay ahead of him. Mike was the only Trojan tight end to catch a pass last year, snagging 4 for 58 yards. Injured in drills last spring, he underwent knee surgery for torn ligaments.

"Mike was having a fine spring until his unfortunate knee injury," says John Robinson. "But he's made a great effort to rehabilitate the knee and can still have the kind of senior year he's hoped for."

The non-letterman backup (37 minutes) to Jim Obradovich in 1974, Howell redshirted in 1973 and played tight end for the JV's in 1972. He was All-CIF as an end and basketball player at Corona High School.

(82) JOE SHIPP — 6-4, 230, 21, Jr.

Shipp played 31 minutes at tight end in the first three games last season and was given a chance to start against Iowa in the fourth when he tore knee ligaments in practice and was lost for the season.

Joe sat out the 1974 season, playing briefly with the varsity in 1973 as a freshman. An All-Marine League selection at split end and flanker, Shipp played on two straight L.A. City championship teams at Carson High School and was also a center on the basketball team.

A public administration major, Joe spends a lot of his free time going to the beach and riding his bicycle.

TACKLES

(64) BRUCE BROOKS — 6-2, 257, 22, Jr.

Redshirted last season after a spring, 1975 knee operation after he transferred from Los Angeles City College, Brooks has made rapid progress. He went into fall drills fighting it out with junior Otis Page for the starting job at weak tackle.

"We moved Bruce to tackle from guard, and he's rapidly improving," says John Robinson. "If he keeps working hard, he could be an outstanding lineman for us."

Brooks played tackle at LACC and also set a school shot put record with a toss of 54-3. He reached 60 feet with the high school shot at George Washington High. A physical education major, Bruce says he enjoys hunting and relaxing while listening to music.

(73) JESSE JANKE — 6-6, 255, 21, Jr.

Janke transferred to USC last spring from Cerritos Junior College, where he was All-South Coast Conference first team at offensive tackle. He competed in football, basketball and track at La Mirada High School. Jesse says his most thrilling moment in sports "is coming to USC to play football."

As a 1974 freshman, Otis Page didn't letter, but played 45 minutes backing up Marvin Powell at strongside tackle. As a sophomore tackle he played only 8 minutes. Now he comes into the fall fighting it out for the starting weak tackle job with Bruce Brooks.

"Otis was like a wild young colt in the past," says John Robinson, "but he's maturing and rapidly improving now. He reminds me very much of former USC All-American tackle Steve Riley (now a starter for the Vikings). When he reaches his maturity, he'll be an outstanding lineman."

At California's Saratoga High School, Page made every All-American team as an offensive tackle and linebacker and was selected outstanding lineman on the Parade Magazine All-American team. He was also picked on the Coach & Athlete Cum Laude team for scholastic and athletic achievement combined.

Saratoga High had a 34-2 record during Page's career — and he also finished sixth in the shot put in the state prep championships with a toss of 59-2.

A pre-med major whose favorite classes are chemistry and physics, Page enjoys "playing the guitar, surfing and barbecuing steaks."

(76) MARVIN POWELL — 6-5, 265, 21, Sr.

"Marvin Powell," says John Robinson, "is the best offensive tackle in America."

The record backs up the coach. Powell goes into his third season as starting strongside tackle, coming off a junior year in which he made the Football Coaches All-American first team and was chosen second team by both AP and UPI. Nicknamed "Boomer" for his devastating blocking, Powell was also a first team All-West Coast pick by both wire services and first team All-Pac-8. He was fourth on the team in minutes played.

In 1974 Marvin was one of just four sophomores to start for the national champions and was fifth on the team in minutes played, making first team All-Pac-8 and second team AP All-Coast that season.

"Powell has great physical ability," says Robinson, "but he's still one of the hardest working men on our team. He's always out to improve and has a great future as a pro. He's an intelligent player whose leadership is very important to us.

"He loves to play this game, and I love to watch him. I admire him very much."

As a freshman, Powell played briefly with the varsity, after being a consensus All-American at Seventy First High School in Fayetteville, N.C. He was a "Super Eleven" pick on the Sunkist All-American team in 1972, playing linebacker and tight end and once made 31 tackles in a game. He was also an all-county selection as a center and forward in basketball and twice got to the North Carolina state finals in the shot put.

A political science major, Powell says reading is his favorite pastime and Muhammad Ali his favorite athlete, "because he's such a tremendous competitor." Powell is married, and his wife's name is Cynthia.

(74) JOHN SCHUHMACHER — 6-5, 275, 21, Jr.

A non-letterman in 1975, Schuhmacher backed up Marvin Powell at strongside tackle (played 10 minutes) and goes into the fall again listed No. 2 at this position.

John was redshirted in 1974, after playing briefly on the varsity as a freshman and lettering with the JV's. He played offensive and defensive tackle and tight end at Arcadia High School, being chosen first team All-Pacific League and third team All-CIF.

Schuhmacher was also an All-Pacific League outfielder in baseball and once drove in 7 runs in a game. He was the leading hitter on his Babe Ruth baseball team that won the national title in summer, 1973.

An avid card player, John says he once made a basket for the other side in a high school JV basketball game — and that was the difference in the final score!

GUARDS

(67) KEN EVANS — 6-4, 252, 21, Jr.

A spring, 1975 transfer from Mt. Diablo Junior College, Evans was held out last season but goes into this fall listed as No. 2 weakside guard behind Pat Howell.

Evans played two years in junior college at tackle and three years of tackle at Ygnacio Valley High School in Walnut Creek, Calif. He enjoys traveling and building cars.

(61) DONNIE HICKMAN — 6-3, 255, 21, Sr.

Third on the entire team in minutes played last season, Donnie Hickman — who likes to be called "Donnie Joe" — is the leading returnee in that category with 302 minutes.

"He's flat out one of the best guards in America," says John Robinson. "He's improved each year he's been at USC — and we're really counting on him to be one of our leaders."

Going into his second season as the starting strongside guard — next to Marvin Powell — Hickman has run the 40-yard dash in 4.9 and 5.0. At Flagstaff High in Arizona, he was quick enough to play tailback and fullback.

As a 1974 sophomore Hickman lettered as he backed up both starting offensive guards and also appeared in several varsity games as a 1973 freshman — as early as the second one with Georgia Tech. At Flagstaff, Donnie also put the shot 59 feet and once scored 41 points in a game for the basketball team.

Muhammad Ali — "he's my idea of a real champion" — is the sports figure Hickman admires the most.

(66) PAT HOWELL — 6-6, 252, 19, So.

One of three non-lettermen listed as offensive line starters going into the fall, Howell is penciled in as No. 1 weakside guard. As a 1975 freshman, he did play 37 minutes, however, backing up Donnie Hickman.

"Pat's a great prospect," says John Robinson. "He's extremely intense and has tremendous physical gifts. He may be inexperienced, but he's learning fast."

A consensus prep All-American from Fresno High whose honors included making Coach & Athlete Magazine's "Super Eleven," Howell played both offensive and defensive tackle. He was the only Californian picked on the "Super Eleven" team and was also Northern California Lineman of the Year. For diversion, he threw the high school discus 195 feet.

Off the field Pat enjoys water and snow skiing, and on the field, like many of his teammates, he says the toughest player he's ever met is Gary Jeter in practice.

(98) NORM LACY — 6-3, 230, 22, Sr.

A two-year JV letterman in 1972 and 1973 when USC still had JV teams, Lacy redshirted in 1974 and was a non-playing squad member in 1975. At Terra Nova High School in Pacifica, Calif., Norm was an all-county offensive and defensive tackle and Lineman of the Year in the North Peninsula League.

He was also a record-setting heavyweight wrestler, establishing a national record for most pins in a season (38). An avid outdoorsman, Lacy loves to camp, fish and ski and says his biggest sports hero is "the athlete who can excel both on the field and in the classroom." A physical education major, his overall grade point average at USC is 3.23.

(70) RICK MILLER — 6-3, 280, 21, Sr.

Listed as No. 2 strongside guard going into the fall, Miller will see action at both guard and tackle this season. A spring, 1975 transfer from Long Beach City College where he was honorable mention All-American, Miller didn't letter last season but played 28 minutes as a backup tackle.

"He's a very good drive blocker," says John Robinson. "He'll play an important role as a backup at both guard and tackle."

An All-Metropolitan Conference defensive tackle selection at Long Beach, Miller went to Lakewood High School, where he also played defensive tackle and was an All-Long Beach City choice. Born in Ponca City, Okla., Miller is an enthusiastic camper and fisherman. His nickname is "Truck."

CENTERS

(69) GARY BETHEL — 6-4, 235, 21, Jr.

Bethel lettered as a backup center last season, playing 45 minutes and figures in that role again. He also played briefly for the 1974 national champions as a freshman reserve offensive guard.

Born in El Paso, Texas, Bethel made the Scholastic Coach All-American team for Turlock High School in Turlock, Calif., playing guard. He also played basketball for Turlock. A history major, Bethel credits former Trojan tackle Greg Marderian for inspiring him to become religious. In school he has an overall 3.47 grade point average.

(62) CHRIS FOOTE — 6-3½, 238, 19, Fr.

Freshmen who don't play lose a year of eligibility anyway, but not if they're injured before they arrive at a university. That's why Foote, a Parade and Scholastic Coach All-American at Fairview High in Boulder, Colo. still has four years remaining, although he came to USC in the fall of 1975. He had knee surgery before fall drills even started.

"We're lucky, because Chris is an absolutely outstanding young player," says John Robinson. "Although he missed part of spring practice with a groin pull, we're definitely counting on him. He'll be a tremendous center."

Foote was an offensive tackle and middle guard at Fairview and also wrestled and put the shot (57 feet) and threw the discus (175 feet). A business major, he says his favorite pastime away from football is skiing. And he can still laugh about a pre-game incident in high school. "We were running onto the field," says Foote, "and I tripped and fell flat on my face."

(51) GENE LAWRYK — 6-3, 235, 22, Sr.

Here is the biggest surprise on the 1976 Trojans going into fall drills.

Lawryk's entire career at USC was packed into 35 minutes of action — he did not letter — in 1974 as an outside linebacker and member of the kickoff teams. In 1972 he played briefly with the varsity, in 1973 he was redshirted, and in 1975 he simply did not play. But he comes into the fall as the starting center.

"Gene's an inspiration to all of us," says John Robinson. "This is his fifth year, and he's worked very hard through four years of anonymity to achieve success. It's no fluke. He's quick, strong and very tenacious. I really admire him."

A graduate of Bell High School, Lawryk was an All-Los Angeles City selection as offensive guard and defensive tackle for the 1971 Eastern League champions who went 10-1. Lawryk played in the 1972 North-South Shrine Game. He's a broadcasting major.

(99) KEVIN McPARTLAND — 6-6, 245, 22, Sr.

Lettered on the 1972 junior varsity at defensive tackle — when USC still had JV competition — then sat out 1973 and was a non-playing member of the 1974 and 1975 teams, also at defensive tackle.

"In practice, Kevin has given 100 per cent since he's been here," says John Robinson. "He's been hampered by a couple of knee injuries, but we expect him to be a team leader for us this season and a key member of the special teams."

PUNTER-PLACEKICKER

(39) GLEN WALKER — 6-1½, 220, 24, Sr.

With 9:39 left in the first quarter of the Liberty Bowl last December, Walker snapped a scoreless tie and got USC off and rolling with a 45-yard field goal. He later stretched USC's edge to 13-0 with a 40-yard field goal, and the Trojans went on to their important 20-0 win. Glen can be just as significant this year.

"Walker will do all our kicking," says John Robinson, "and I think he can be one of the best combination field goal-extra point-punt experts in the country. He's an excellent pro prospect, but like most kickers, he must improve his consistency. I'm confident, however, he'll give us an outstanding kicking game."

A transfer from Harbor Junior College in the spring of 1975 — where he was honorable mention JC All-American and All-State as both punter and placekicker, Walker did all USC's kicking last year.

He consistently boomed his kickoffs into the end zone, toed 8 field goals, including a long of 47 against Iowa and another of 45 against Oregon, and hit on 25 extra points. He averaged 39.3 on 61 punts, with a long of 59.

As a sophomore at Harbor JC, Walker set a school record with a 41.4 average on 34 punts and also kicked 21 of 23 PAT's and 3 of 7 field goals. He was a freshman kicker at Harbor in 1970, then went into the Army for three years and worked as assistant prison supervisor at Fort Leavenworth, Kan.

At Gardena High School, Walker was an All-Marine League and All-Los Angeles City selection and once punted from his own 20 into the other end zone, only to have it nullified by an offsides penalty. A great fan of another kicker, George Blanda, Walker enjoys working on cars in his spare time. He's married, and his wife's name is Pam.

DEFENSE NOSE GUARDS

(72) RAY PETERS — 6-3, 240, 20, Jr.

A non-letterman defensive tackle and nose guard last season, Peters played 19 minutes. He was listed as No. 2 nose guard going into fall drills.

"Ray is developing into a fine defensive lineman," says John Robinson. "He may play both nose guard and tackle for us this season."

Peters appeared briefly as an offensive tackle with the varsity in 1974, before shifting to defense in the spring of 1975. An offensive and defensive tackle at St. Francis High in La Canada, Peters was named Lineman of the Year on the All-San Gabriel Valley team. He was also an All-CIF 4-A pick.

Against Notre Dame High he blocked a punt, scooped up the ball and ran 70 yards to score for a 10-7 victory. He had 29 quarterback sacks as a senior and played on the North team in the Shrine All-Star Game.

(71) HAROLD STEELE — 6-1, 240, 22, Sr.

Although he started only the Purdue game last season, while senior Tim Rhames started the other 11 at nose guard, Steele actually played more than Rhames — 151 minutes to 141. He goes into this fall as the definite starter.

Harold runs the 40 in 4.85, and last season he made 34 tackles, including 3 for 15 yards in losses and also broke up a pass. A fall, 1974 transfer from San Diego City College, he was held out that season.

"Harold is ready for an outstanding senior year," says John Robinson. "He's perhaps USC's quickest nose guard in several years, and he has a great opportunity ahead of him."

Steele has the credentials. He was a first team JC All-American defensive lineman at San Diego, MVP of his own team and also most valuable player in the Mission Conference. In one game he made 15 tackles; in other 14.

(94) RAY ZOLLER — 6-3, 240, 19, So.

A freshman last season, Zoller saw a couple of minutes of action at nose guard, but did not make a tackle. He came to USC from Troy High School in Yorba Linda, where he played both defensive and offensive tackle. Born in Macon, Ga., Zoller loves the West Coast. He's an avid water skier, snow skier and motorcycle rider.

TACKLES

(91) ED CATOE — 6-4, 245, 20, Jr.

A spring, 1975 transfer from San Bernardino Valley College, Catoe was redshirted last season, after playing two years in JC. He was listed as a reserve right tackle behind Walt Underwood, going into fall practice. Born in Dayton, Ohio, Catoe was a defensive end and tight end at San Bernardino High.

(92) RICH DIMLER — 6-6, 260, 20, So.

Although he played behind the great Gary Jeter, Dimler was the only freshman to letter last season, playing 68 minutes. Asked mainly to contain, rather than charge, he made half a dozen tackles. He's the No. 2 left tackle behind Jeter again, but the next three years look bright.

"Rich is improving rapidly," says John Robinson, "and there's not much doubt about it — he has a great future here at USC."

Born in Bayonne, N.J., Dimler was a consensus All-American at Bayonne High School, making the Coach & Athlete, Parade and Scholastic Coach squads. He went both ways. On offense he normally played tackle, but shifted to guard for his blocking in short yardage situations. Defensively, he made 66 unassisted tackles, 42 of them in the first five games before frustrated opponents began running away from him. He also knocked down 6 passes, recovered a pair of fumbles and sacked the quarterback 9 times.

Besides being an All-American, he was chosen All-New Jersey. Asked why he came all the way across country to USC, Dimler said: "I knew if I could play here, I could play anywhere." He's tough: his sports idol is Dick Butkus.

(79) GARY JETER — 6-4½, 255, 21, Sr.

A UPI second team All-American last season, along with being All-West Coast (AP and UPI) and All-Pac-8, Jeter is going to be USC's first four-year starter in several decades.

The No. 1 left tackle since the third game of his freshman year — when an injury to a veteran, Mike Hancock, thrust him into the lineup against Oklahoma, Gary may have his greatest year ahead of him.

"His physical ability is awesome," says John Robinson, "and we're going to turn him loose. We plan to attack more with him — put him in situations where he can play with complete recklessness. If he wants to, Gary can be the best tackle in the country. He can absolutely dominate a game.

"There's no doubt he's one of our essential players, and I don't mean only physically. His leadership is very important to our defense."

John McKay once called Jeter the fastest defensive tackle he'd ever seen, and to say Gary is quick is an understatement. He's consistently run the 40 in 4.7 and 4.8, once running 4.7 when he stumbled at the start.

Although his main job for three years has been to contain on defense and force ball carriers to others, he was fourth on the 1975 team in tackles with 66, fifth on the 1974 national champions with 64 and 10th as a freshman in 1973 with 49. In his three years, Jeter has thrown 25 ball carriers for losses, including a team-high 13 for 61 yards in 1974 and 7 for 40 last season. He had 5 for 53 yards as a precocious freshman.

In 1975 Jeter also knocked down a remarkable 8 passes at the line of scrimmage, including 4 in USC's struggling win over Oregon. As a freshman Jeter had one deflection, as a sophomore two, and he also has an interception and pair of fumble recoveries in his career.

Besides last year's honors, Jeter was AP honorable mention All-American as a sophomore in 1974, along with being first team AP All-Coast, second team UPI All-Coast and first team All-Pac-8.

At Cleveland's Cathedral Latin High School, Jeter was chosen Ohio Lineman of the Year in 1972 and was a consensus All-American. In one game he had 18 tackles, sacking the quarterback an incredible 10 times. He also put the shot 60 feet for the track team.

Recruited heavily, Jeter narrowed his choices to USC, Notre Dame and Ohio State before deciding. Bright and gregarious, he loves to play basketball and ride his bike, and will often take off on 20-mile cycling trips from Los Angeles to the beach. He's a marketing major who recognizes excellence. His favorite player is All-Pro Alan Page of the Minnesota Vikings; his favorite team the world champion Pittsburgh Steelers.

(96) MYRON LAPKA — 6-4, 245, 20, So.

Another Trojan of the future, Lapka appeared briefly in one game as a freshman last year and looms as a reserve defensive tackle this season. "If he keeps improving, he'll be an excellent player here," says John Robinson.

A defensive tackle and fullback at Chatsworth High, Lapka was first team All-Los Angeles City in 1973 and second team in 1974 on defense. He played for the North in the 1975 Shrine All-Star Game. Lapka says he chose USC to play football at, "because I wanted to be the best player I could be."

(95) WALT UNDERWOOD — 6-4, 220, 21, Jr.

In a season of injuries and frustration, Walt Underwood was probably the most pleasant surprise on the USC defense in 1975. A player who had never seen action, he came into the season as No. 2 right tackle, but became the starter and kept the job when Vinny Van Dyke couldn't recover from an off-season accident.

"He not only kept the job, he had a great sophomore season," says John Robinson. "He has great quickness and very good strength, and he'll get even better."

Another Trojan who was timed in 4.7 in the 40, Underwood played opposite Gary Jeter and wound up sixth on the team in tackles with 61, including 7 for 32 yards in losses. He also broke up a pass, recovered a fumble, had 11 tackles against UCLA, 8 unassisted, and was chosen second team All-Pac-8.

A defensive lineman on the JV's as a freshman in 1973, Underwood was tried briefly at tight end in fall, 1974, before sitting out the season.

He came to USC from Southwest High School in Atlanta, where he helped his football team go unbeaten (10-0) and his basketball team win the state title. In football, Underwood played middle guard for Southwest's defense which allowed only 13 points all year, making 25 tackles in one game as a senior. He was All-State. In basketball he was the Wolves' leading scorer and rebounder the night they won the state 2-A title, and in track he was Georgia state champion in the discus as a junior, and set a state record with a toss of 158-1.

Born in Tuscaloosa, Ala., Underwood says he enjoys meeting people and calls Muhammad Ali his biggest sports hero, "because he's not just the greatest boxer, but concerned about all mankind and knowledgeable about so many aspects of life." He says teammates Marvin Powell and Donnie Hickman are the toughest players he's ever faced.

(75) VINNY VAN DYKE — 6-5, 252, 20, Jr.

1975 was a disappointing year for Van Dyke, who came into the season as the starting right tackle but was limited to only 28 minutes of action as a non-letterman because of a late summer construction accident and slow recovery.

"He's now completely recovered from his unfortunate accident," says John Robinson, "and we feel that he gives us another starting tackle. He's very intelligent and consistent, and I believe he'll have an outstanding season."

In his limited duty last season, Van Dyke made 8 tackles, but as a freshman in 1974 he terrorized opposing teams on kickoffs, making 9 tackles in 21 minutes of action.

Born in Greenwich, Conn., Van Dyke was All-State at Greenwich High and was on the Scholastic Coach All-American team at defensive end. He was also area Athlete of the Year and in one game made 13 unassisted tackles. In another, he intercepted a screen pass and flashed 40 yards for a touchdown. In the winter Vinny played center for the basketball team.

An outgoing person, Van Dyke says, "Away from football I really enjoy listening to music or playing it with a group of good friends."

OUTSIDE LINEBACKERS

(53) GARRY COBB — 6-3, 220, 19, So.

Among the freshmen, Cobb was second only to Rich Dimler in minutes played last season, narrowly missing his letter with 41 minutes of action. He had half a dozen tackles as a backup outside linebacker and goes into this fall as No. 2 strongside linebacker, behind David Lewis.

Born in Carthage, N.C., Cobb was an All-State linebacker and flanker at Stamford High School in Stamford, Conn. In one game he made 29 tackles. Garry also won All-State honors in basketball and baseball, and you can't convince him that basketball is a non-violent sport. Trying to save the ball in one game, he ran straight into the wall of the gym and knocked himself cold.

(50) ED GUTIERREZ — 6-0, 216, 20, Jr.

Twice honorable mention All-American for East Los Angeles JC, Gutierrez transferred to USC last spring. In 1974 he was honored at defensive tackle, as he played on East L.A.'s state championship team with fellow Trojans Lynn Cain and Walt Ransom. As a sophomore in 1975 he switched to linebacker but was honorable mention All-American again and also first team All-State.

"Besides seeing action at outside linebacker, he should be an important part of our special teams this year," says John Robinson.

Gutierrez was also a linebacker at Salesian High. He's a business administration major and loves to spend free time at the beach. He's still embarrassed by an incident in one of his past games. Chasing the ball carrier, Eddie tackled him all right, but he also tackled one of his teammates at the same time.

(41) STEVE KENLON — 6-0, 200, 20, So.

Kenlon wears the same number as ex-USC linebacking star James Sims, but there's more in common between the two of them than that.

"Steve has the same type of quickness as Sims, and we expect a lot out of him at outside linebacker," says John Robinson. "He's young and aggressive and should be an outstanding special teams player, too."

Redshirted in 1975 after spring knee surgery, Kenlon came back in the spring of 1976 to run the 40 in 4.65. He had appeared in several games as a freshman for the 1974 national champions and made 13 tackles, although he didn't letter. He also made one of the blocks which sprung Anthony Davis on his famous scoring kickoff return against Notre Dame that year.

A split end (sophomore), tight end and linebacker (junior) and linebacker and running back (senior) for Servite High School, Kenlon made the 1973 Coach & Athlete All-American team and was named honorable mention on the Scholastic Coach squad. He was also Lineman of the Year in Orange County and as a receiver once caught the winning touchdown pass against Pius X with 23 seconds left.

A broadcasting major, Kenlon has an overall grade point average of 3.08. He says the toughest football player he's ever faced is teammate Mosi Tatupu.

(57) DAVID LEWIS — 6-4, 230, 22, Sr.

The returning starter at strongside linebacker, Lewis is on his way to becoming one of the great linebackers in USC history.

"David is vital to our success," says John Robinson. "He's improved significantly since last season and is ready to be a great player. He's always had outstanding physical ability, but now he's become a smarter, more competitive player, too.

"Like Gary Jeter, Lewis can dominate a game and he must do it often for us to have a great defense."

He was only honorable mention All-Pac-8 last year, but Lewis could be an All-American in 1976. Quick as a cat — he ran the 40 in 4.65 at 230 pounds last spring — Dave led the 1975 Trojans in tackles with 90, including a team-high 12 for losses (totaling 40 yards). He also broke up 4 passes and recovered 4 fumbles, including one at the USC six-yard line in the Liberty Bowl that cut off a 61-yard drive by Texas A&M with the score only 3-0.

David led USC in tackles in three different games, getting 13 against Oregon State, Washington State and Notre Dame. Against Oregon State, 12 of the 13 were unassisted. A 1974 transfer from San Diego City College, Lewis lettered as a sophomore reserve at both outside linebacker positions, making 32 tackles, including 5 for losses.

After Anthony Davis had returned Notre Dame's second half kickoff for the 1974 touchdown that started USC's famous explosion in the 55-24 win, Lewis kept it going by swallowing up Irish halfback Mark McLane on his own eight yard line on the very next kickoff. THAT inspired the Trojan defense.

At San Diego in 1973 Lewis earned All-Southern California JC honors and sacked the Citrus quarterback seven times in one game. At Lincoln High in San Diego, he was All-City and All-County one year in basketball as a center and two in football.

A speech communications major, Lewis credits ex-USC Helmsman Trophy winner Mike Garrett for help and inspiration when he was in San Diego. With embarrassment, however, he recalls an important interception in one prep game. "I was laughing as I carried the intercepted pass down the field, daring somebody to catch me," he recalls, "when the quarterback, of all people, did just that — and tackled me."

(52) ROD MARTIN — 6-2, 195, 22, Sr.

Gifted with excellent speed — he runs the 40 in 4.7 — Martin was the Trojans' third leading tackler last season with 72, including 8 for 32 yards in losses. He also recovered 3 fumbles and broke up a pass. All this, and he was a reserve the first half of the year. After Mario Celotto was knocked out for the season, Martin stepped in and started five of the last seven games, including the last four. Now he's a fixture as No. 1 weakside linebacker.

"Rod Martin and David Lewis give us two of the best outside linebackers in the country," says John Robinson. "Martin played very well at the end of the 1975 season and is ready for an outstanding senior year. He has great quickness and is fundamentally sound. He's always in the right place."

Robinson watched enthusiastically on television as Martin tied for the team lead in tackles against Texas A&M in the Liberty Bowl, making 12, including 5 for losses. He also led the Trojans with 12 against Stanford and had 11 in the UCLA game.

A spring, 1974 transfer to USC, Martin was held out that season. In 1973 at Los Angeles City College, he was named first team JC All-American as a linebacker for the LACC team that tied Fresno, 10-10, for the state JC championship. Rod was on the same team as Vince Evans.

Born in Welch, West Virginia, Martin played locally at Hamilton High, earning All-Los Angeles City honors at linebacker. He also played forward and center for the basketball team, long jumped and high jumped for the track team and played fullback for the football team. Rod says he enjoys swimming and horseback riding.

INSIDE LINEBACKERS

(59) MARIO CELOTTO — 6-4, 230, 20, Jr.

In a season of several severe injuries, one of the most devastating last year was the loss of Celotto in the fifth game with torn knee cartilage, requiring surgery. At the time Mario was the starting outside linebacker on the weak side and leading the team in tackles for losses (6 for 31 yards). Before being hurt against Washington State, Celotto had made 27 tackles and broken up a pass in four and a half games. He runs 4.7 in the 40.

Although a second knee operation last winter forced him to miss this year's spring practice, Celotto is listed as a starting inside backer going into the season.

"We moved Mario inside because we need him there," says John Robinson. "His potential is enormous. He has great size and range and can develop into a truly great player. He'll play a very important role on our defense."

Celotto not only lettered as a freshman for the 1974 national champions, he was 12th on the defense in minutes played and started three games when senior Dale Mitchell sat out with a knee injury. He had 37 tackles as a freshman, including 2 for 18 yards in losses, and showed off his speed by returning a squib kickoff 44 yards to Washington's nine-yard line. He also played briefly at defensive tackle when senior Art Riley was hurt, broke up a pass and intercepted another.

At St. Bernard's High, Mario was chosen on the All-CIF 3-A first team, despite his team's 1-8 record. He was All-Camino Real League as an offensive guard and defensive tackle, making the first team both as a junior and senior. At USC he's a business major.

(83) DANNY LOZANO — 6-2, 220, 19, So.

A Scholastic Coach honorable mention prep All-American, Lozano played 9 minutes as a freshman last season and could figure prominently as a reserve linebacker this fall, if he recovers from knee surgery.

A linebacker, tight end, tackle and guard at Roosevelt High School, Lozano was named first team All-Los Angeles City linebacker in 1974, led his team into the City quarterfinals and also was named Player of the Year in the Eastern League. He had 24 tackles in one game. Danny also played for the North team in the Shrine Game and says, "Playing football for those crippled children in the Shriners Hospital was my biggest thrill in sports so far."

He plays the flute as a music major and has an overall grade point average of 3.14.

(60) CLAY MATTHEWS — 6-2, 230, 20, Jr.

A two-year letterman — he was one of five freshmen to letter for the 1974 national champions — Matthews has been a backup at both inside and outside linebacker. Now he's a starter inside and will call defensive signals.

"Clay was one of the most improved players in the spring," says John Robinson. "He'll play inside exclusively and has become one of our most consistent defenders. He's very smart and very tough."

In 1975 Matthews started inside against Oregon (for injured Dale Logie) and led the Trojans in tackles with 9, and also started one game outside, California, (for injured Mario Celotto). Overall, he finished 10th on the team in tackles with 46, broke up two passes, intercepted another and recovered a fumble.

As a freshman in 1974 Matthews made 25 tackles, including 3 for 9 yards in losses. He came to USC from New Trier East High School in Chicago, where he was on the Coach & Athlete and Scholastic Coach All-American teams, made the All-Illinois team and won the Knute Rockne Award from the Chicago Notre Dame Club. He had 20 tackles in one game as a linebacker and averaged 6.7 yards a carry as a fullback. He also played guard on the basketball team. Earlier, Matthews played for Arcadia High in California, before moving to Chicago.

A business administration major, Clay is on the Pac-8 honor roll with an overall 3.39 grade point average.

(54) VINCE TAMMARO — 6-3, 234, 21, Jr.

Although he's never played for the varsity, Tammaro goes into fall drills listed as a second-teamer at inside linebacker. As a freshman in 1973, he was sixth on the JV's in minutes played, but was a non-playing squad member the last two seasons.

"Vince is an extremely physical player who can help us now," says John Robinson. "He's learned a lot and become more consistent."

Tammaro came to USC from Serra High School in Northern California, where he was All-San Mateo County, All-West Catholic Athletic League and most valuable player on his team as a fullback. He also played basketball. A public relations major, Vince is an avid outdoorsman, spending his free time hunting, fishing and backpacking.

(93) JEFF WAKEFIELD — 6-1, 227, 22, Sr.

Jeff saw 4 minutes of action in 1975 and made a pair of tackles, but has never lettered. He was a non-playing squad member at linebacker in 1974 and redshirted in 1973. He did play linebacker for one of USC's last JV teams in 1972. A guard and linebacker at Notre Dame High in Van Nuys, Wakefield was an All-CIF third team and All-San Fernando Valley first team selection. In one prep game he made 15 tackles.

A public relations major, Wakefield lists Roger Staubach of Dallas as his favorite sports star, "because of his personal faith in and testimony of Jesus Christ."

(55) ERIC WILLIAMS — 6-2, 215, 21, Sr.

For three years, when asked for his biggest thrill in sports, Williams has answered, "When I first start for USC." Now he stands on the ledge of fulfilling his dream.

"With Williams, Celotto and Clay Matthews I consider we have three starters at inside linebacker," says John Robinson. "Eric has had injury problems in the past, so he must squeeze his career into one season. But he's hard working, aggressive, and a good pass defender. He'll be an important part of our defense."

A letterman in 1975 at inside linebacker, Williams made 22 tackles. In 1974 he appeared briefly in several games, making a pair of tackles. As a freshman in 1973 he lettered at linebacker for the JV's. An All-City fullback and linebacker at Central High in Kansas City, Mo., Williams was on the same team as Kenny Randle. He made 25 tackles in one game.

A physical education major, Williams enjoys hunting and fishing. He says the toughest player he's ever faced is USC offensive guard Donnie Hickman. Eric is married and his wife's name is Stephanie.

DEFENSIVE BACKS

(47) LARRY BRAZIEL — 6-0, 185, 22, Jr.

A transfer last spring from Compton Junior College, Braziel was twice named first team All-Western States Conference at defensive back. In 1975 he intercepted 2 passes, broke up 6 more and made 25 tackles. Larry was off to a fast start in spring practice but suffered torn cartilage in one of his knees and had surgery. He's still listed as No. 2 right cornerback behind Ron Bush.

"It was unfortunate Larry had that injury after only seven days of practice, but he has an outstanding future ahead of him at USC," says John Robinson. "If he can come back quickly from his injury and learns our defense fast enough, he'll be a definite asset this year."

Born in Fort Worth, Texas, Braziel was an offensive and defensive back at Dunbar High in Fort Worth. He's an elementary education major at USC, and says he enjoys listening to music. Larry had an embarrassing incident happen to him in one of his games. He intercepted a pass and was suddenly tackled — by his own teammate!

(44) MIKE BURNS — 5-11, 185, 22, Sr.

Mike lettered in 1975 as Doug Hogan's backup at rover and started one game (Stanford) for the Trojan senior. He goes into fall drills fighting it out with Ricky Odom for the starting job at left cornerback. Although he played less than many of the other defensive backs last year, Burns was fourth in the secondary with 29 tackles and returned one kickoff for 15 yards.

Like Larry Braziel, however, he must recover from spring surgery for torn knee cartilage.

"Mike's made the switch from rover to cornerback very well, and we're counting on him to have a fine season," says John Robinson. "He has outstanding speed and quickness and is a definite pro prospect in the secondary."

Burns sat out the 1974 season, after transferring from Contra Costa Junior College. He was switched to defensive back at USC, although he had played tailback in JC, running for 693 yards, 10 touchdowns and a 4.1 average as a sophomore. He also caught 5 passes for 60 yards, including one of 39 yards for a touchdown, earned honorable mention All-State honors and was twice chosen to the All-Camino Norte Conference first team. Mike's a sociology major.

(23) RON BUSH — 6-0, 190, 22, Sr.

The returning starter at right cornerback, Bush had the second highest number of tackles in the secondary, 41, including 3 for 10 yards in losses. He had seven tackles against three different teams, Stanford, Washington and UCLA, and all were unassisted against Washington and UCLA.

Ron has been a starter for most of the last two years. He took over the job at right corner midway through the 1974 season and kept it, making 22 tackles and breaking up 3 passes. He began last year as a starter, lost his job to senior Ted Roberson for four games, then started the last seven. In 1975 Bush also recovered a fumble and broke up a pair of passes.

"Ron had an excellent spring and I believe has the experience and ability to have a great senior year," says John Robinson. "He's a very aggressive player, and at times this aggressiveness has gotten him in trouble. But he's learning to be more cautious and is improving all the time as a one-on-one defender."

A spring, 1973 transfer from San Bernardino Valley JC, Bush was red shirted that year. He played offense and defense at San Bernardino. Ron also went to San Bernardino High School, where he was an All-City offensive and defensive back for two years, scored three touchdowns in one game and ran 9.7 and 21.8 in the sprints for the track team. Bush is a sociology major.

(5) MIKE CAREY — 6-1, 202, 21, Jr.

A strong quick runner, Carey played 20 minutes — but didn't letter — as a reserve quarterback last season, then was moved to the secondary in the spring. He appears to have found a home. He comes into the fall listed as No. 2 rover behind Clint Strozier.

"Mike's a natural leader who's very competitive — like Pete Rose of the Cincinnati Reds," says John Robinson. "He'll play at least part of the time in our secondary and will fill a vital role on our special teams."

As a 1975 quarterback Carey directed an 85-yard drive against Washington State, but lost his chance for a share of glory when he carried from the seven to the one-yard line and fumbled the ball away. He also had an 18-yard run in the game. For the season he returned 3 kickoffs for 36 yards with a long of 23.

Mike played rover briefly with the varsity in 1973, appearing in the Rose Bowl, and also started for the JV team at quarterback, before red shirting in 1974. He also played both defensive back and quarterback on the North Shrine team in 1973, after being chosen All-Northern California quarterback at San Francisco's Riordan High. In one prep game he passed for 140 yards, ran for 120 and scored three touchdowns, while throwing for another.

His most embarrassing moment in sports, says Carey, was being stung by a bee while throwing a pass in practice. He's an engineering major who also enjoys mountain climbing, and has an overall 3.06 grade point average.

(30) TONY GIPSON — 5-10, 175, 20, So.

One of the surprises of the spring, Tony Gipson was a redshirted tailback in 1975 who didn't seem to have a future at USC. Moved to defense, however, he goes into the fall listed as a second team cornerback.

"Tony impressed me," said John Robinson. "He's a tough guy who likes to hit. He's moved up to where he's in a position to play."

Gipson played tailback briefly as a freshman in 1974, carrying once for two yards. He was an honorable mention All-American on the Scholastic Coach team at Long Beach Wilson High School. He scored 4 touchdowns in one game and also ran a 9.7 100 for the track team. At USC Gipson's a business major.

(48) TIM LAVENDER — 6-4, 185, 20, Jr.

A spring transfer from San Diego City College, Lavender was listed as a reserve safety going into fall drills. He was the first team All-Mission Conference safety last season.

Tim returned 4 interceptions for 172 yards as a sophomore at San Diego, including a school-record, 96-yard sprint for a touchdown against Santa Barbara City College. He also had a 97-yard touchdown runback cut to a net of 40 by a clipping penalty away from the ball. Lavender broke up 4 other passes and made 38 tackles. He played basketball as a freshman, and was the 20th leading rebounder in the state.

(35) JOHN LEVY — 5-11, 182, 21, Sr.

Son of former USC assistant coach and current assistant athletic director Dave Levy, John has played briefly for the varsity the last two years. He's a cornerback.

Levy lettered on USC's last JV team as a freshman in 1973. He came to the Trojans from Los Alamitos High School, where he wrestled and played linebacker. John is a physical education major who loves camping and hiking, and he has a 3.15 overall grade point average.

(33) RICKY ODOM — 6-1, 183, 20, Jr.

Odum has been a reserve cornerback the past two seasons, but goes into fall of his junior year fighting it out with senior Mike Burns for the starting job at left corner.

"Ricky is a great natural athlete," says John Robinson. "He's one of the best one-on-one cover men I've ever seen in college football. He has an outstanding future ahead of him."

As a sophomore in 1975, Odom just missed lettering, playing 31 minutes as the backup to second team All-American Danny Reece. He made 9 tackles. Ricky also backed up Reece as a freshman, playing 19 minutes, deflecting 2 passes and making 10 tackles.

Odum was a second team All-City selection at Los Angeles High and was named Most Valuable Player in the Southern League, playing both wide receiver and defensive back. As a senior he caught 51 passes for 818 yards and 10 TD's and also intercepted seven passes. Against Fremont he caught 5 straight passes in the last two minutes to set up the touchdown and two-point conversion that won the game, 20-19. He was also the all-league shortstop for the baseball team.

A young man with a lot of energy, Odom enjoys mountain climbing, horseback riding, fishing and bowling. "I also have three favorite athletes," he says, "O. J. Simpson, because of all his moves; Gus Williams, because of his quickness; and Steve Garvey, because he's a hitter." A speech major, Odom says he came to USC, "because I knew it would make me a better human being and also an intelligent and respectful one."

(43) ROBIN ROBINSON — 6-0, 185, 20, Jr.

A reserve at both safety and cornerback last season, Robinson started one game (Oregon State) at safety and played 26 minutes over the season. A badly sprained shoulder after eight games knocked him out for the rest of the season. Robin made half a dozen tackles, broke up 2 passes, recovered a fumble and returned 4 kickoffs for a 25.3 average, with a long of 31.

He lettered with the JV's in 1973, but was redshirted in 1974. An All-Bay League selection at Centennial High as a defensive back and wide receiver, Robin also was the 1973 CIF 4-A 440 champion, winning in 48.7. In 1972 he anchored Centennial's 440 relay team which also won the CIF championship. He has a lifetime 440 best of 46.9 on a mile relay leg.

(2) MIKE SANFORD — 6-0, 176, 21, Jr.

A reserve quarterback last season, Mike is headed for a new career at safety. He was moved to defense last spring, and is listed No. 2 at his position.

"He's doing a good job at safety," says John Robinson, who authored the move. "He's a very intuitive player — and eager. He really wants to play."

Sanford just missed lettering last season, playing 31 minutes, but most of that time came as the starting quarterback against Washington. The No. 4 quarterback when the 1975 season began, Mike moved up when Rob Hertel went out for the season, then moved past Mike Carey and got a surprise start for Vince Evans against Washington. He directed USC's only TD drive in the game, a 57-yarder, netted 9 yards on 9 carries and completed 1 of 3 passes for 9 yards. USC lost, 8-7.

As a quarterback at Los Altos High, Sanford was an All-Northern California selection and Most Valuable Player in the Santa Clara Valley. In one game he completed 7 passes, and 3 went for touchdowns. He was also president of his junior and senior classes. A physical education major, Sanford says his favorite class is kinesiology.

Mark played in the first five games in 1974, mostly on the kickoff teams, before injuring his knee and undergoing surgery. He was redshirted in 1975.

Mark came to USC from Clark High School in Nevada, where he was an All-State quarterback and also played soccer and baseball. A physical education major, Spino loves to box and water ski. He's married and his wife's name is Debbie.

(49) CLINT STROZIER — 6-3½, 190, 21, Sr.

When he transferred to USC in the spring of 1975, Strozier inherited the number of 1973 Trojan All-American Charles Phillips. And, off his junior season, Strozier may inherit Phillips' All-American honors, too.

"Clint is the best combination tackler-pass defender USC has had in a long time," says John Robinson. "He can be a dominating physical force on defense, and should also give us great leadership. He's got great range and speed and has an excellent pro career ahead of him, too."

Strozier is the Trojans' starting rover. Last year he took over as starting safety in the third game, kept that job, and was named second team All-Pac-8 and second team UPI All-Coast. He led USC in interceptions with 5, the secondary in tackles with 48, knocked down 5 other passes and recovered 2 fumbles. Two of his interceptions came in the first half of the Liberty Bowl, when the Trojans put Texas A&M away. Strozier's first, at the Aggie 19, set up a field goal for a 13-0 lead. The second, returned 19 yards, killed an Aggie drive that had reached USC's 30 just before halftime.

Clint came to USC from Moorpark Junior College, where he was honorable mention All-American and honorable mention All-State. Also an All-Western States Conference first teamer, Strozier led his team in tackles with 108, caused 4 fumbles and made 2 interceptions, as teams rarely threw in his area. A rival JC coach called him "by far the best defensive back in the state."

At Oxnard High, Strozier also played basketball and competed for the track team. He's a physical education major who says he loves hiking and running on the beach.

(7) DENNIS THURMAN — 5-11, 170, 20, Jr.

Already a two-year letterman, Thurman is an athlete from another era. As a freshman and sophomore, he played both ways — although he opens this season as the full-time, starting safety.

In 1975, Thurman started two games at flanker and two at safety, and in several games saw action at both positions. Offensively, he ran 3 times for 38 yards, including a 29-yard reverse against Washington State, and caught 3 passes for 55 more. Defensively, he made a dozen tackles and broke up a pass. In idle moments, he also returned a kickoff for 26 yards and caught 11 punts for 25 more.

As a freshman, Dennis started three games at flanker when regular Shelton Diggs was hurt and later was moved to backup safety, where he starred in the fourth quarter of USC's Rose Bowl-clinching defeat of UCLA. First he intercepted a pass on the USC four to stop one Bruin drive, and then several minutes later, he picked a fumble out of the air and raced 85 yards down the right sideline for a touchdown.

"Dennis doesn't have great size or speed," says John Robinson, "but he has the necessary intelligence, quickness and instincts to be outstanding. It all depends on his own desire."

At Santa Monica High, Thurman was the 1973 All-CIF 4-A second team quarterback, passing for 500 yards and 5 touchdowns and running for more than 800 with 11 TD's and a 7.8 average per carry. He also returned punts 75 and 60 yards for scores and played safety.

In basketball, Thurman was an All-CIF 4-A pick, averaging 17.2 points a game as a guard, and he also played the outfield for the baseball team. As a football junior he passed for over 900 yards. In 1974 he was Prep Magazine's CIF Athlete of the Year. A journalism major at USC, Dennis says he relaxes from all that activity by listening to music.

FRESHMAN SKETCHES

DAVID ANDERSON — Offensive Lineman, 6-3, 250

A Scholastic Coach All-America and All-CIF 4-A selection as a defensive lineman at Arcadia High School . . . named "Defensive Player of the Year" in the Pacific League . . . a two-time All-San Gabriel Valley choice . . . made 94 tackles and 12 quarterback sacks as a senior.

BRAD BUDDE — Offensive Lineman, 6-6, 250

The son of veteran Kansas City Chiefs' offensive guard Ed Budde, Brad was the only Trojan freshman to be named to the "Super Eleven" of Coach & Athlete Magazine and also made the Parade All-America and honorable mention Scholastic Coach . . . played both offense and defense at Rockhurst High School in Kansas City, Mo. and led his team with 61 unassisted tackles and 50 assists, also earning first team "All-Metro", All-District and All-State honors.

JEFF FISHER — Wide Receiver, 5-10, 170

An All-Los Angeles City and honorable mention Scholastic Coach All-America selection as a wide receiver for Taft High School . . . set a city receiving record for one game with 13 catches for 284 yards against Chatsworth, scoring two touchdowns on passes of 58 and 80 yards . . . his senior year he caught 56 passes for 806 yards . . . also played defensive back with six interceptions, 44 tackles and six assists . . . named West Valley League co-player of the year and made the All-San Fernando Valley team, too . . . selected to play in the Shrine All-Star game.

DAVID GREER — Offensive Lineman, 6-5, 245

All-Metro and the top vote-getter on the All-North Yosemite League team as an offensive and defensive lineman for McLane High School in Fresno . . . named the top lineman at his high school . . . considered better offensively but played defense too.

JAMES HUNTER — Tight End-Linebacker, 6-4, 225

Like the pros do sometimes, the Trojans signed an athlete more noted for his basketball skills but with a great deal of potential in football in James Hunter . . . did not play football his senior season — after his outstanding junior year in basketball — but was on the football squad as a sophomore and junior at Santa Barbara High School . . . selected to the second team All-CIF in basketball as a center his junior year when he averaged 12.4 points but only earned All-Channel League honors as a senior.

VIC JACKSON — Fullback, 6-3, 226

One of two players recruited from San Marcos High School in Santa Barbara (the other is Allen Pugh) . . . an All-Channel League selection as a running back and slot back on offense and linebacker on defense . . . was used mainly as a blocker on offense.

DENNIS JOHNSON — Tight End, 6-4, 218

Only other player besides Brad Budde to be recruited from out of state . . . named to the Scholastic Coach

All-America honorable mention and was All-State as both a tight end and linebacker at Northwestern High School in Flint, Michigan . . . caught 23 passes for 468 yards and five touchdowns as a senior and 27 passes for 367 yards his junior year . . . runs the 40 in 4.6 and bench presses 300 pounds.

MIKE McDONALD Jr., — Linebacker, 6-2, 215

An All-CIF 3-A first team selection as a linebacker at Burroughs High School in Burbank . . . also named the co-defensive player of the year in the Foothill League and lineman of the year in the Glendale-Burbank area . . . selected to play in the Shrine All-Star game.

PAUL McDONALD — Quarterback, 6-2, 180

Had trouble last year coming back from a leg injury that sidelined him most of his junior year at Bishop Amat High School in La Puente . . . made the All-Angelus League first team and completed 52 per cent of his passes for 950 yards . . . his favorite target was Richie McKay, son of John McKay, who had 30 receptions. (McKay was only a junior last year) . . . threw four touchdown passes in a game against St. Anthony's.

KENNY MOORE — QB-DB, 6-1, 185

Only the second performer ever to be named player of the year in Los Angeles twice (the other was Charlie Evans of Gardena and USC in 1965 and 1966) . . . as a junior he was selected player of the year alone and as a senior he shared the honor with San Fernando High School backfield mates Charles White and Kevin Williams . . . last year he also was named to the Parade and Coach & Athlete All-Americas and the Scholastic Coach All-America honorable mention . . . picked on the All-City first team offense as a junior and All-City first team defense his senior season . . . hampered by a jammed toe most of his senior year, he ran for 624 yards and passed for 616 out of the wishbone . . . in his three years at quarterback, his team compiled a 32-5 record and won back-to-back city titles his junior and senior seasons with a perfect record in 1975 . . . accounted for 4,103 yards total offense and 46 touchdowns in his career (26 rushing, 20 passing) with his most productive year as a junior when he ran for 781 yards and 11 touchdowns on 177 carries and passed for 769 yards and seven TD's with 53 completions on 122 attempts . . . he's the brother of former USC running back Manfred Moore . . . named to play in the Shrine All-Star game.

ANTHONY MUNOZ — Off. Tackle, 6-6, 260

A unanimous All-American at Chaffey High School in Ontario, making the Coach & Athlete, Parade and Scholastic Coach first teams . . . named to the All-CIF 4-A first team as a defensive lineman . . . punted for his team with a 40-yard average . . . was an All-CIF second team infielder with a .378 average in baseball and All-Citrus Belt League as a forward in basketball . . . selected to play in the Shrine All-Star game.

ALLEN PUGH — Tight End, 6-3, 230

A Scholastic Coach All-American and selected to the All-CIF 4-A second team offense . . . also named most valuable lineman of the Channel League . . . picked to play in the Shrine All-Star game . . . played offensive tackle at San Marcos High School in Santa Barbara but will be a tight end at USC.

TYRONE SPERLING — Off. Lineman, 6-1, 225

A Scholastic Coach All-America and was All-City first team offense as a guard at Banning High School in Wilmington . . . a two-year All-Marine League choice and three-year starter . . . co-captain of his team which was runner-up in the city championships in 1975 . . . registered Olympic lifter in the clean and jerk and snatch and was first in the local junior Olympics in these two events and second in the Western Regionals of the Junior Olympics . . . holds his high school's weight lifting records of 350 pounds in the bench press and 500 dead lift . . . selected to play in the Shrine All-Star game.

KEITH VAN HORNE — Off. Lineman, 6-6, 230

A two-year All-Freeway League choice as a tight end and defensive lineman . . . also lettered two years in basketball and was a shot putter on the track team with a best of 57-9.

KEVIN WILLIAMS — Wide Receiver, 5-9, 170

Tri-player of the year in Los Angeles along with teammates Kenny Moore and Charles White at San Fernando High School . . . named to Parade All-America and honorable mention Scholastic Coach All-America . . . an All-City pick in 1974 as a defensive back and in 1975 as a running back, helping lead his team to back-to-back city titles and a perfect record last year . . . led the city in rushing with 1,402 yards and scoring with 151 points (including 22 TD's) in 1975, carrying only 125 times and averaging 11.2 a rush . . . as a junior he rushed for 876 yards on 122 attempts for a 7.2 average . . . he was the state champion in the 100-yard dash as a junior with a best of 9.4 and won the 100 in the city championships both his junior and senior years (disqualified in state meet because of false start in 1975).

CHARLES WHITE — Tailback, 6-0, 180

The most honored of the Trojan freshmen, he was the Southern California prep athlete of the year for 1975-76 and one of only three athletes ever to be named player of the year in two sports, winning in football and track (the others were Anthony Davis and Kevin Williams, both also of San Fernando High School and USC) . . . shared Player of the Year honors for the Los Angeles City section with teammates Kenny Moore and Williams and named the top track performer alone . . . in football, he was chosen to the Scholastic Coach All-America in 1975 and made the All-City offense the last two years . . . played fullback in the San Fernando wishbone and averaged 9.6 per carry with 1155 yards on 121 carries as a senior and a team-leading 1160 yards on 118 attempts for a 9.8 average as a junior . . . was just as spectacular in track, setting a national prep record for the 330-yard low hurdles of 36.0 . . . won the low hurdles in the city, state and national (in Chicago) prep meets and was second in the high hurdles (14.1) in the city championships.

VAN WIESE — Fullback, 6-3, 215

A versatile performer, he played both running back and quarterback on offense and defensive back for Carson High School in Los Angeles . . . named to the Scholastic Coach All-America and was an All-City first team defense selection . . . gained 346 yards on 45 carries for a 7.69 average and scored seven touchdowns his senior year . . . filled in when the regular quarterback was injured and completed nine of 31 passes for 315 yards and three touchdowns, averaging 34.6 yards gained per completed pass . . . intercepted two passes and recovered two fumbles and had 33 tackles and 31 assists . . . also punted with a 37.3 average for 21 punts and averaged a 3.85 hang time . . . started at quarterback his junior year and was All-Marine League as a junior and senior and All-South Bay as a senior.

1975 GAME SUMMARIES

Game 1 — September 12, Los Angeles Coliseum

USC 35, Duke 7

Duke	0	0	7	0 — 7
USC	6	7	7	15 — 35

John McKay began his last USC season by introducing a new Trojan tailback, ex-fullback Ricky Bell. Bell not only shattered Duke, he also shattered USC's 19-year-old, single-game rushing record of 251 yards, set in 1956 against Texas by C. R. Roberts.

Getting snappy blocking from fullbacks Dave Farmer and Mosi Tatupu, Bell exploded for 256 yards and ran for four touchdowns, going over from 8, 6, 1 and 1 yards out. Bell set his record on 34 carries, averaging 7.5 a try. He had 141 yards by halftime.

Remarkably, Ricky had 11 runs in double figures — gains of 11, 11, 11, 15 and 24 yards in the first half and bursts of 21, 12, 14, 17, 13 and 10 in the second half. He broke the record with a six-yard, first down run off right tackle late in the fourth quarter.

Quarterback Vince Evans directed the Trojans on scoring drives of 51, 59, 61 and 87 yards, while quarterback Rob Hertel came off the bench to lead a 63-yard touchdown march.

USC won the game on the ground, where Trojan backs ran for 434 yards to 156 for Duke. Reserve tailback Dwight Ford chipped in with 44 yards, Farmer ran for 42, Tatupu got 41, and Evans, faking to Bell, kept for 37 more.

Tatupu got USC's final touchdown, at the end of Hertel's drive, by bouncing off several tacklers and going over from the 16. Ford set the TD up with a 27-yard run.

Game 2 — September 19, Los Angeles Coliseum

USC 24, Oregon State 7

Oregon State	7	0	0	0 — 7
USC	7	9	8	0 — 24

This was a game of both good and bad news, as the Trojans opened the Rose Bowl race and gave John McKay his 121st career victory, which tied Howard Jones for the most in USC history.

By winning, the Trojans extended their record Pac-8 unbeaten streak to 26 games, extended their Coliseum unbeaten string to 22 games and won their seventh straight overall.

But the first of 14 crushing injuries to starters — the broken leg suffered by first string fullback Dave Farmer — was the beginning of USC's problems that would culminate in the late-season slump. Farmer, who had run for 56 yards on 10 carries in a game and a half, broke his leg on USC's first second half play, his six-yard gain up the middle.

It was a block by Farmer that sprung tailback Ricky Bell through right tackle and away on a 53-yard touchdown run the first time the Trojans touched the ball. Bell did some very fine dancing in heavy traffic and then shot outside and down the left sideline to go all the way.

The All-American tailback followed up his school-record first game by running for 215 yards on 28 carries (7.7 average), including a 25-yard burst for USC's final touchdown early in the third quarter. Bell hurdled the two final tacklers on that run. He also had a non-scoring 38-yard gain against the Beavers.

USC made several mistakes in the game, including four turnovers. The biggest, a fumble by quarterback Vince Evans at his own nine, set up Oregon State's touchdown that momentarily tied the game at 7-7 midway through the first period. Steve Gervais passed to tight end Phil Wroblicky for the touchdown on the first play after the fumble.

Glen Walker put USC ahead for good, 10-7, with a 23-yard field goal in the second period, and also boomed punts of 51, 36, 39 and 54 yards to keep Oregon State backed up.

Cornerback Ted Roberson made it 16-7 at half by sprinting 29 yards down the right sideline to score with an interception. The Trojans also got inspired defensive play from outside linebackers David Lewis and Mário Celotto. Lewis had 13 tackles, 12 of them unassisted, broke up a pass and threw three runners for losses. Celotto had eight tackles, two for losses.

Game 3 — September 27, Los Angeles Coliseum

USC 19, Purdue 6

Purdue	0	0	0	6 — 6
USC	0	0	7	12 — 19

It wasn't artistic at all, but the Trojans emerged from a scoreless halftime tie with Purdue to give coach John McKay his 122nd career victory, most in USC history.

For USC, the best offense was defensive star Danny Reece. The explosive Trojan cornerback, who wound up the season as No. 2 punt returner in the nation, broke the game open in the third and fourth quarters with dazzling runbacks of 47 and 68 yards to the Purdue 12 and 3-yard lines, setting up USC's last two touchdowns.

For the game, Reece returned four punts for 150 yards, just 12 less than ex-Trojan Mike Garrett's Pac-8 record.

The Trojans had gained only 58 yards by halftime — they were also penalized 109 yards and fumbled four times for the afternoon — when Ricky Bell got them rolling. Bothered by a sore knee, Bell had his lowest regular season rushing output, 89 yards, but he got 35 of the 72 amassed on USC's first touchdown drive early in the third quarter.

Quarterback Vince Evans set the score up with a 13-yard run to the Boilermaker one, and then Evans cut over left guard for a 7-0 lead.

Late in the quarter, Reece sprinted 47 yards to the Boilermaker 12 after fielding a punt on his own 41. On the first play of the final period, Evans faked a handoff, delayed and then shot up the middle from the 12 for his second touchdown.

On Purdue's very next punt, Reece took the ball at his own 29, burst toward the Trojan bench, reversed his field at about the 50 and shot down the left sideline to the Boilermaker three. Bell dove over from the one for the final TD.

A USC mistake — flanker Shelton Diggs' fumble at his own 27 — set up Purdue's touchdown. After a 19-yard pass interference penalty put the ball on the Trojan eight, quarterback Craig Nagel passed to tight end Nigel Wirgowski for the score.

USC linebacker Dale Logie led all tacklers in the game with 10.

Purdue outgained USC, 309 to 226, but the Trojans still left with their eighth straight win and 23rd straight in the Coliseum without a loss.

Game 4 — October 4, Iowa City, Iowa

USC 27, Iowa 16

USC	0	7	17	3 — 27
Iowa	10	0	0	6 — 16

Before playing Iowa in their first road game, the Trojans lost starting quarterback Vince Evans with a sprained thumb on his passing hand — he didn't make the trip — and also lost tight end Joe Shipp (torn knee ligaments) for the season.

But sophomore quarterback Rob Hertel and tailback Ricky Bell took over to lead the Trojans from a 10-0 deficit to a hard-fought victory.

Making his first start, Hertel completed 6 of 14 passes for 121 yards and one touchdown, a 10-yard flip to split end Randy Simmrin, and also ran 3 and 6 yards for scores. Bell flattened the Hawkeyes with 163 yards rushing on 26 carries, despite having a 36-yard bolt nullified by penalty.

It was USC's ninth straight win, but the Trojans trailed 10-0 after only 6:36 had been played. Tailback Paul Rice fumbled the opening kickoff, Iowa recovered on the USC 16, and shortly after, Nick Quartaro kicked a 26-yard field goal.

On the Trojans' first play from scrimmage, following the next kickoff, flanker Shelton Diggs fumbled on a reverse, the Hawkeyes recovered again and eight plays later fullback Bob Holmes went over from the one.

Then Hertel produced 27 straight points on touchdown drives of 50, 57 and 60 yards and marches to field goals of 47 and 25 yards by Glen Walker.

Danny Reece's 10-yard interception return set up USC's first score, which Hertel got rolling out from the three. USC trailed 10-7 at halftime.

In the second half the Trojans scored on their first four possessions.

Hertel threw 10 yards to Simmrin for a 14-10 lead, then fired 47 yards to Simmrin to the Hawkeye 15 to set up another score, the quarterback's six-yard burst for a 21-10 lead.

The running of Bell and reserve tailback Dwight Ford set up the two field goals by Walker.

Defensively, tackle Larry Nunnally led the Trojans with 11 tackles, while outside linebacker Mario Celotto made eight, including two for losses.

Game 5 — October 11, Los Angeles Coliseum

USC 28, Washington State 10

Washington State	3	0	0	7 — 10
USC	0	14	7	7 — 28

Although the Trojans breezed to victory over the Cougars — their 27th straight Pac-8 game without a loss — the score easily could have been more one-sided.

Leading 14-3 in the second quarter, USC lost one touchdown when Ricky Bell's 40-yard scoring run up the middle was nullified by an away-from-the-ball clipping penalty. And, leading 28-3 in the fourth quarter, the Trojans lost another when reserve quarterback Mike Carey fumbled the ball away on the Cougar goal line to kill an 86-yard drive.

What was worse, however, was the loss of two more players for the season — first string defenders Mario Celotto and Ted Roberson. Celotto, playing outside linebacker, had led the team in tackles for losses, while Roberson at cornerback had two interceptions. Celotto suffered torn cartilage and underwent knee surgery. Roberson, like Dave Farmer earlier, broke a leg.

With mistakes and injuries crippling the Trojans, they relied again on the scrimmage running of tailback Ricky Bell and the punt returning of cornerback Danny Reece.

Despite having his 40-yard touchdown run wiped out, Bell registered his third 200-yard game of the season, ripping off 217 yards on 38 carries. He also had a non-scoring 39-yard run.

Reece returned five punts 125 yards, setting up one touchdown and scoring another. Behind 3-0 on Chuck Diedrick's 24-yard field goal, USC went ahead after Reece darted 33 yards to the Cougar 30 with his first punt late in the first quarter. Seven plays later, quarterback Rob Hertel faked a handoff and scored from the two.

Fifty-five seconds after that TD, Gavin Hedrick punted a line drive to Reece again, and Danny took it 64 yards for another score and 14-3 lead. Along the way, he slipped through two potential tacklers, spun off another and raced into the end zone holding the ball aloft.

Hertel directed 71 and 58-yard drives for the last two USC scores, most of the yards coming on the runs of Bell and fullback Mosi Tatupu, the game's second leading rusher with 61 yards.

Game 6 — October 18, Los Angeles Coliseum

USC 17, Oregon 3

Oregon	3	0	0	0 — 3
USC	7	7	3	0 — 17

The week before playing Notre Dame, the Trojans played like they were dreaming of the Irish — stumbling and fumbling past Oregon. And they were rocked by the loss of still another regular, quarterback Rob Hertel, who broke his left leg and went out for the season.

Hertel's broken leg was the third to a Trojan first teamer in 1975.

Although the Trojans outgained Oregon, 230-186, they ran only 58 plays to 70 for the Ducks. In addition, USC was penalized 10 times for 93 yards and lost two of five fumbles.

So once again, the Trojans turned to tailback Ricky Bell.

"We did not block well," said John McKay, "and I never saw a youngster work harder to get over 100 yards than Bell did. On his own, he knocked tacklers down."

Spinning, twisting and scrambling, Ricky gained 128 yards on 26 carries and climaxed USC's only touchdown drive, a 59-yard march, by bolting over left tackle from the three for a 14-3 lead in the second quarter. He carried 8 times for 53 yards on the drive.

For the third straight week the Trojans came from behind, as Oregon took a 3-0 lead on Stan Woodfill's 31-yard field goal the first time the Ducks got the ball.

With two minutes left in the first quarter, USC went ahead for good when rover Doug Hogan cut in front of tight end Kevin Culligan, intercepted Jack Henderson's short pass and sprinted 61 yards untouched for a touchdown and 7-3 lead.

Ahead 14-3 in the third quarter, USC made it 17-3, driving to a 45-yard field goal by Glen Walker. Backed up on his own 14, quarterback Vince Evans threw 69 yards to split end Randy Simmrin, but Simmrin lost 15 yards (from Oregon's 17 back to the 32) when he was penalized for spiking the ball after the catch.

Defensively, tackle Gary Jeter knocked down four Duck passes at the line of scrimmage.

It was USC's 11th straight win, 28th straight game without a loss in Pac-8 play and 25th straight in the Coliseum without a loss.

Game 7 — October 25, South Bend, Indiana

USC 24, Notre Dame 17

USC	0	7	7	10 — 24
Notre Dame	6	8	0	3 — 17

Unquestionably, this was the high point of USC's regular season.

Ranked third in the nation, the Trojans came from behind three different times to beat the Irish, who had been 5-1, and in so doing stretched their unbeaten streak in all games to 18 and their winning streak to 12 — second longest in the nation.

To get to a 7-0 record, USC had to come from down 6-0 in the first quarter, 14-7 at halftime and 17-14 in the third quarter. The Trojans were literally carried to victory by Ricky Bell.

Against the punishing Irish defense, Bell slammed for 165 yards on 40 carries, running up the most yardage ever by a Trojan tailback against Notre Dame (surpassing O. J. Simpson's 150) and also accumulating the most carries ever against the Irish.

Bell got stronger. He carried 25 times for 65 yards in the first half, and then surged for 100 on 15 carries in the second.

Ricky was tremendous on the game-winning drive. Down 17-14 on Dave Reeve's 27-yard field goal with 11:38 left in the game, USC drove 71 yards to a touchdown with Bell pounding for 47 of them, including runs of 19, 12 and 11 yards. Fullback Mosi Tatupu added 22, and quarterback Vince Evans got the decisive two for the touchdown.

That made it 21-17, and USC quickly made it 24-17, when cornerback Danny Reece intercepted a Joe Montana pass on the Irish 35, and Glen Walker added a 35-yard field goal.

USC had come into the game having allowed no run from scrimmage longer than 19 yards — but on Notre Dame's second play halfback Al Hunter turned right end and sprinted 52 yards for a touchdown and 6-0 lead. The conversion was partially blocked.

The Trojans took a 7-6 second quarter lead, when linebacker David Lewis recovered a fumble on the USC 45, and Evans produced a 55-yard march, culminating in his 21-yard touchdown pass over the middle to flanker Shelton Diggs.

Notre Dame grabbed a 14-7 halftime lead in a remarkable way — when cornerback Luther Bradley blocked two straight punts by Glen Walker. Tom Lopienski recovered the first in the USC end zone, but a Notre Dame offside penalty nullified the touchdown. So Bradley blocked Walker again, Lopienski picked the ball up again — this time on the 13 — and ran it in for the TD. Hunter passed for the conversion on an option pass.

The Trojans tied it at 14-14 with a 37-yard march early in the third quarter, set up by rover Doug Hogan's interception. Bell, Tatupu and Evans worked the ball to the Irish two, and Bell plunged over for the score. Walker added his second conversion. Notre Dame drove 50 yards in 13 plays to set up their field goal and final lead.

Linebackers David Lewis and Kevin Bruce led USC in tackles with 13 each, and Lewis recovered two fumbles.

The win gave John McKay a 6-1-2 record in his last nine games with Notre Dame and 8-6-2 mark against the Irish overall.

Game 8 — November 1, Berkeley, California

California 28, USC 14

USC	0	7	7	0 — 14
California	0	7	7	14 — 28

From mid-1971 through the first seven games of the 1975 season, USC and John McKay compiled a sizzling 42-3-3 record. Then, starting with California, the Trojans lost more games in a month (four) than in the previous four years.

The Trojans took a 7-0 record on the season and 3-0 league record to California, and they also took an 18-game overall unbeaten streak and record 28-game Pac-8 unbeaten streak.

They not only lost all those streaks and the game to the Bears, they also lost their coach. After a week electrified by rumors and speculative stories in the media, McKay announced Friday morning, some 30 hours before the game, that he would leave USC at the end of the season to coach the new Tampa team in the NFL.

On Saturday, his fourth-ranked Trojans twice came from behind to tie, the last time at 14-14 with 1:57 left in the third quarter, but the Bears put them away with two fourth quarter touchdowns.

The nation's leading offensive team, California outgained the Trojans, 477-296, outfirstdowned them, 24-20, and ran off more plays, 71-66.

With the score 14-14, Cal and quarterback Joe Roth put together an 87-yard, 13-play drive that ended with Roth bouncing over from the one with 11:05 left in the game.

With three minutes left, the Trojans gambled from their own 16, lost the ball, and Cal recovered and scored on an 11-yard run by fullback Tom Newton for the final 28-14 margin.

After a scoreless first quarter, Cal had scored first on a 61-yard drive that ended with Roth throwing 16 yards to Wesley Walker. USC came back immediately with a 74-yard scoring march that culminated with tailback Ricky Bell shooting through left guard and running 12 yards to the end zone for a 7-7 tie. Although outgained 143-121 by Cal's Chuck Muncie, Bell had a 46-yard gain nullified by a penalty.

With less than a minute left in the first half, USC moved to the California one, but two carries by Vince Evans failed to get into the end zone, cornerback Jeff Moye nailing the Trojan quarterback on the last play with 37 seconds left.

Cal took the opening second half kickoff and surged 80 yards to take a 14-7 lead on Roth's four-yard pass to tight end George Freitas in the end zone. Late in the period, USC retaliated with a smart, 95-yard, seven-play drive on the running of Bell and Mosi Tatupu, that ended with Evans high kicking 29 yards into the end zone.

McKay wound up with a 13-2-1 record against the Bears.

Game 9 — November 8, Los Angeles Coliseum

Stanford 13, USC 10

Stanford	3	7	0	3 — 13
USC	0	7	3	0 — 10

Back home in Los Angeles, USC lost to another team the Trojans had dominated during the McKay era. John McKay was 13-2 against Stanford, but he lost the final match when the Cards' Mike Langford kicked a 37-yard field goal as the gun sounded.

The defeat all but killed USC's shot at the Rose Bowl — and snapped the Trojans' 25-game Coliseum unbeaten streak.

Stanford got the ball for the winning surge when Savann Thompson intercepted a Vince Evans pass and took it back 17 yards to the Trojan 38. Earlier in the quarter Langford had missed a 40-yard attempt.

The loss overshadowed another remarkable performance by Ricky Bell, who stormed for 195 yards on 35 carries, including a 69-yard run to the Cardinal four on a broken play. By running his season total to 1,549 yards, he became the second leading single season rusher in Trojan history.

The Trojans, however, lost fumbles at the Stanford 45, 32 and 5-yard lines, the latter bobble coming after Bell's 69-yard run.

For the sixth straight game USC fell behind early, dropping back 3-0 in the first quarter when Langford kicked a 55-yard field goal. The Trojans jumped ahead, 7-3, in the second period when Evans lofted a perfectly thrown 68-yard touchdown pass to split end Junior Lee.

Stanford made it 10-7 at the half, driving 37 yards after a short punt to the USC five, from where tailback Ron Inge scored on an end sweep and dive at the goal line.

The Trojans tied the score at 10 on the last play of the third quarter, driving 58 yards to the Stanford 22. Glen Walker then connected on a 39-yard field goal. Outstanding in the loss for USC was outside linebacker Rod Martin who led the Trojans with a dozen tackles.

Game 10 — November 15, Seattle, Washington

Washington 8, USC 7

USC	0	7	0	0-7
Washington	0	0	0	8-8

Had the Trojans beaten Washington — and they took a 10-game winning streak against the Huskies into Seattle — they would have been invited to the Cotton Bowl.

But they blew a host of chances and lost in rainy, 40-degree weather, running their losing streak to three straight for the first time since 1971. After the game the Trojans were, however, offered a Liberty Bowl bid — and they accepted.

For USC to lose after the kind of afternoon Ricky Bell had at tailback was almost a crime. Running on a rain-slick artificial turf, Bell carried 42 times for 190 yards — and had a 73-yard burst around right end to the Husky 10 nullified by a late third quarter penalty. It might have helped stake the Trojans to a 14-0 lead.

Ricky finished the game with 1,739 yards, breaking O. J. Simpson's one-season Pac-8 record of 1,709, set in his Heisman Trophy year of 1968.

Instead of leading 14-0, USC took a 7-0 lead into the fourth quarter and lost on a safety — Jeff Flood centered the ball into the end zone on a punt and kicker Glen Walker had to fall on it — and a 12-yard scoring run by tailback Greg Martin at the end of a 49-yard drive.

Trailing 8-7, the Trojans blew two scoring opportunities in the last 3:22 of the game. After marching 49 yards to the Husky eight, they lined up Walker for a 26-yard field goal attempt with 3:22 left — but it was blocked. A short punt quickly gave the Trojans the ball again on their own 47, and they drove to Washington's 28 where quarterback Mike Sanford — given a start for Vince Evans — fumbled the ball away with 35 seconds left. USC fumbled six times in the game and lost four.

Although USC moved throughout the first quarter, safety Clint Strozier set up the only Trojan touchdown with an interception at the Husky 43. Bell got 39 of the 43 yards, and fullback Mosi Tatupu dove over from the one on the second quarter's second play.

Game 11 — November 28, Los Angeles Coliseum

UCLA 25, USC 22

UCLA	6	12	7	0 — 25
USC	7	7	0	8 — 22

For USC, this was a game of monumental frustration.

For UCLA, it was the key to the Rose Bowl — for the first time in a decade.

The Trojans had beaten the Bruins five straight times in Rose Bowl-deciding games (USC went every time), but UCLA's tenacious defense was the difference in 1975 as the Bruins wound up co-Pac-8 champions with California. A USC victory would have sent the Bears to Pasadena.

By coming up short, the Trojans' John McKay not only suffered the first four-game losing streak of his 16-year USC career, but also lost his last college game ever in the Coliseum.

At the same time Ricky Bell fell short — just an agonizing six yards short — of Ed Marinaro's all-time, NCAA single-season rushing mark. Bell fought for 136 yards on 36 carries, but wound up with 1,875 for the regular season to Marinaro's 1,881.

Not only Bell, but the whole Trojan offense walked away frustrated. UCLA fumbled an astounding 11 times — losing 8 of them, including 6 in the second half — but USC was able to capitalize only once. In the last nine minutes, the Bruins turned the ball over to USC three times, and the Trojans got nothing, running out of downs at the Bruin 35, 30 and 36-yard lines.

Incredibly, while UCLA had nine turnovers, including one interception returned 35 yards by Trojan cornerback Danny Reece, USC had only one. But the Trojans were outgained, 414-286 and outfirstdowned, 23-16.

USC looked like a winner early, parading on 71 and 75-yard touchdown drives on the Trojans' first and third possessions. Bell got 36 of the first 71 yards, including a one-yard scoring blast over right tackle for a 7-0 lead.

Late in the first quarter, UCLA stormed 80 yards to score on Eddie Ayers' five-yard run, but the conversion was wide and USC still led, 7-6. The Trojans stretched out to a 14-6 margin as quarterback Vince Evans hit split end Randy Simmrin with three straight passes for 47 yards and also broke off a 15-yard run. Vince then finished the drive, shooting four yards through right tackle for the TD and a 14-6 lead.

However, Evans, who had hit five of his first six passes, completed only 2 of his next 18, missing 14 straight in one stretch, while the Bruins rallied for an 18-14 halftime lead and 25-14 edge by the third quarter.

First, halfback Wendell Tyler, who ran for 130 yards out of the UCLA Veer, streaked 57 for the score that cut USC's lead to 14-12. And then the Bruins went 86 yards with quarterback John Sciarra throwing 18 to tight end Don Pederson for the 18-14 lead. Trojans Walt Underwood and Clay Matthews stopped two different UCLA bids for two-point conversions by tackling Sciarra.

Early in the third quarter, Tyler fumbled on the Trojan 20, and USC's Kevin Bruce, leading Trojan tackler with 12, got one of his two fumble recoveries. On the next play, however, fullback Mosi Tatupu fumbled the ball right back to UCLA on the 19, and Sciarra quickly got the 19 for the score and 25-14 lead with another pass to Pederson.

Late in the period, linebacker Dale Logie hit Ayers and Bruce recovered again, this time on UCLA's 12. Bell ran five, four and three yards for the touchdown, then hit left guard for the two-point conversion that cut the Bruin edge to 25-22.

And there it stayed through an incredible fourth quarter.

Game 12 — December 22, Liberty Bowl, Memphis

USC 20, Texas A&M 0

Texas A&M	0	0	0	0 — 0

This was John McKay's last USC game and a big surprise. Seemingly demoralized and mired in a four-game losing streak, the Trojans snapped back to life to beat a Texas A&M team that had gone 10-1, was ranked sixth in the country and was favored by seven. In fact, the Aggies had earlier won their first 10 in a row and were ranked as high as second nationally.

In addition, Texas A&M brought the nation's leading defense and leading defense against rushing into the game.

The Aggies did hold All-American tailback Ricky Bell to his lowest one-game total (82 yards), but the Liberty Bowl's MVP broke the game open in the second quarter when he took a short screen pass from Vince Evans and exploded 76 yards for the touchdown that made it 20-0. It was USC's longest scoring play of the season.

The Trojans also got sharp passing from Evans, who had his best game of the season with 6 completions in 13 attempts for 174 yards, including a 65-yard bomb to Randy Simmrin that set up USC's other touchdown.

USC outgained A&M, 315-247, as outside linebacker Rod Martin made a dozen tackles, including five for losses. Tackle Gary Jeter also had 12 tackles, while inside backer Kevin Bruce had 11 and outside linebacker David Lewis had nine and a fumble recovery.

A&M's only big offensive thrust was a 61-yard march to the USC eight late in the first quarter with the score only 3-0, but quarterback Mike Jay fumbled when hit by rover Doug Hogan and Lewis recovered on the six.

The Trojans jumped ahead 3-0 on their first possession, driving from their 43 to the A&M 28, as Evans passed to fullback Mosi Tatupu for 13 yards and ran for 11. From the 28, Glen Walker kicked a 45-yard field goal.

Late in the period USC took over on its own 16, reached the 34 and in one play shot to the Texas A&M one as Evans hurled his 65-yard pass to Simmrin who beat All-American cornerback Pat Thomas. Tatupu went over from the one for a 10-0 lead.

On the first play after the kickoff, safety Clint Strozier intercepted a Jay pass and returned a yard to the A&M 19. USC was jammed up, but Walker kicked a 40-yard field goal for a 13-0 lead.

It was late in the second quarter when Bell took Evans' screen pass, broke a couple of tackles, cut up the middle and accelerated through a crowd of diving, sprawling Aggies for his 76-yard score.

In the second half, A&M never advanced past the USC 38 — until less than a minute remained. Time ran out with the Aggies on the USC 29.

The 82 yards rushing by Bell also pushed his season total to 1,957 yards, breaking O. J. Simpson's USC one-season mark of 1,880 (counting bowl games), set in 1968.

By winning, McKay finished his college career with an impressive 6-3 bowl game record.

USC'S TOMMY TROJAN

WHY TROJANS?

USC's nickname, "Trojans," originated in 1912. Up to this time the University of Southern California teams were called the Methodists or Wesleyans, nicknames which were not looked upon with favor by university officials.

Warren Bovard, director of athletics and son of university president Dr. George Bovard, asked Los Angeles Times sports editor Owen Bird to select an appropriate nickname.

"At this time, the athletes and coaches of the university were under terrific handicaps," recalled Bird. "They were facing teams that were bigger and better-equipped, yet they had splendid fighting spirit. The name 'Trojans' fitted them.

"I came out with an article prior to a showdown between USC and Stanford in which I called attention to the fighting spirit of USC athletes and named them 'Trojans.' From then on, we used the term 'Trojan' all the time, and it stuck.

"The term 'Trojan' as applied to USC means to me that no matter what the situation, what the odds or what the conditions, the competition must be carried on to the end and those who strive must give all they have and never be weary in doing so."

NON-CONFERENCE RECORD

John McKay's final season at USC could not have been better in non-conference action. The Trojans won all five games including a 20-0 triumph over sixth-ranked Texas A&M in the Liberty Bowl. In the five games, the Trojans scored 125 points to their opponents' 46 points.

McKay finished his 16-year Trojan career with a 58-23-5 record for a .703 percentage against a non-conference schedule that included Notre Dame every year and a record eight Rose Bowl appearances.

USC's all-time non-conference mark improved to 220-86-17 for a .707 percentage in its 88-year history.

USC's ATHLETIC HERITAGE

USC's athletic excellence is recognized throughout the world of intercollegiate athletics.

Trojan teams have captured more NCAA championships — 59 — than any university in the nation and the university's football team has been declared mythical national champions on seven occasions.

Here is the up-to-date list of USC national titles and the coaches of the winning teams.

HEISMAN SALUTE

Mike Garrett — 1965

Mike Garrett, USC's first Heisman Trophy winner, concluded his Trojan career on Nov. 27, 1965, against Wyoming. By rushing for 112 yards in that game, Mike established a new NCAA career record of 3221 yards (since bettered).

The popular Garrett won the Heisman Trophy over such outstanding collegians as Howard Twilly of Tulsa, Jim Grabowski of Illinois, Don Anderson of Texas Tech, Floyd Little, Tom Nobis, Bob Griese and Clint Jones.

Garrett and Anthony Davis are the only players in USC history to lead the Trojans in rushing three years.

HEISMAN SALUTE

O. J. Simpson — 1968

O. J. Simpson became USC's second Heisman Trophy winner in four years in 1968 when he captured the award by the most one-sided margin in the history of the balloting.

During the regular 1968 season O. J. established an NCAA record for yards rushing — 1709 — in a single season. He equalled or bettered no less than 13 USC records including four records held by 1965 Heisman Trophy winner Mike Garrett and 1926 All-American Mort Kaer.

OUTLAND SALUTE

Ron Yary — 1967

Ron Yary is the only USC player to win the Outland Trophy, "the Heisman Trophy for linemen." The Outland award goes to the outstanding guard or tackle in the nation and is selected by the Football Writers Association of America.

Yary was a two-time consensus All-America offensive tackle for the Trojans and was a unanimous All-America pick in 1967 when he won the Outland. The first player selected in the 1968 pro draft, he is now a perennial All-Pro with the Minnesota Vikings.

ATTENDANCE RECORDS

Accurate attendance records have been compiled on Trojan football games for the past 55 seasons. During this time 28,672,240 people have attended USC games. It is estimated that 500,000 saw the Trojan games from 1888 to 1919, for a total of more than 29 million since USC started playing intercollegiate football 87 years ago.

Largest single-game crowd in USC history was the 112,912, paid crowd that jammed Soldier Field in Chicago for the 1929 USC-Notre Dame game. Largest home crowd was 104,953 for the 1947 USC-Notre Dame game in the Coliseum.

GENERAL INFORMATION

THE UNIVERSITY OF SOUTHERN CALIFORNIA

The University of Southern California is the oldest major independent non-sectarian coeducational university in the West. Its diversity of good programs has marked it as one of the most distinguished universities in the world.

Nearly 100 years ago the University came into being with 53 students who attended classes in a single, wooden building that had been constructed, at a cost of $5,060, on land donated by a Catholic, a Jew, and a Protestant. A thousand persons, who represented 10% of the population of Los Angeles, were present for the laying of the cornerstone on September 4, 1880.

The University's Toward Century II program seeks $265 million to help meet USC's educational goals. As an independent institution dependent on private support, many worthwhile opportunities for philanthropy exist at the University of Southern California.

- * USC, one of only 23 private leading research universities in the United States, is a member of the Association of American Universities, the most esteemed organization of academic institutions.
- * Several specialized campuses include a Marine Science Center on Santa Catalina Island; The Idyllwild School of Music and the Arts in the San Jacinto Mountains; and the Health Sciences campus, located next to the Los Angeles County-USC Medical Center.
- * Enrollment stands at 24,080, including 11,100 fulltime undergraduates; 4,850 fulltime graduate or professional students; 2,700 parttime undergraduates; 5,430 parttime graduate or professional students.
- * Faculty and students from approximately 100 countries around the globe come to USC for study, teaching, and research.

- USC provides southern California with a significant portion of its professionals: 48% of the judges and 40% of the attorneys in Los Angeles County are USC graduates; more than 2,000 physicians, 7,500 engineers, 45% of the pharmacists, 60% of the social workers, dentists, and school administrators in southern California earned their degrees at USC.
- Sponsored research and training programs total more than $45 million per year.
- USC has a fulltime faculty of 1,760.
- Included among USC's distinguished alumni are astronauts Neil Armstrong, Alan Bean, James Lovell, and Walter Schirra; Chancellor Ernest L. Boyer of the State Universities of New York; columnist Art Buchwald; U.S. Representative Yvonne Braithwaite Burke; Metropolitan Opera star Marilyn Horne; artist Mary Corita Kent; author Irving Stone; actress Marlo Thomas; symphony conductor Michael Tilson Thomas; actor John Wayne; former CBS-TV Network President Robert D. Wood.

DR. JOHN HUBBARD University President

Dr. John R. Hubbard is the eighth President to serve the University of Southern California. He was elected to the position by a unanimous vote of the Board of Trustees in August of 1970. Two months later he became a USC Trustee.

Dr. Hubbard had been vice president and provost of USC for a year before succeeding Dr. Norman Topping, who became USC's second chancellor after 12 years as the University's chief executive officer.

Dr. Hubbard, a noted historian, came to USC from four years in India climaxed by service as chief education adviser there for the U.S. Agency for International Development.

Prior to that he was dean and professor of European history at Newcomb College of Tulane University from 1953 to 1965.

A specialist in modern British and modern European history, he taught at Tulane from 1949 to 1952, and spent the year of 1948 on the faculty of Louisiana State University and 1952-53 teaching at Yale University. He teaches graduate history students every year.

A graduate of the University of Texas, where he earned three degrees between 1936 and 1950, having served five years during World War II as a naval aviator, Dr. Hubbard also studied at North Texas State University in Denton and The American University in Washington, D.C.

He came out of the Navy as a Lieutenant Commander, having been a flight instructor and patrol plane commander in the Atlantic and Pacific fleets. He won the Distinguished Flying Cross and four Air Medals.

Dr. and Mrs. Hubbard, the former Lucille Lockett of San Angelo, Texas, live in San Marino. They have three daughters, Elisa, a 1973 graduate of the University of California, Berkeley, who has completed work on her Master's degree in International Relations at USC; Melisse, who earned her Baccalaureate and Master's degrees from USC in Social Work, and Kristin, a senior at Stanford.

He is a trustee of the Association of Independent California Colleges and Universities and a member of the Southern California Advisory Board of the Institute of International Education and a Trustee of Scholarships for Children of American Military Personnel.

He is a member of the Commission on Federal Relations of the American Council on Education and a member of the Council on Federal Relations of the Association of American Universities.

DR. NORMAN TOPPING

University Chancellor

After twelve distinguished years as the seventh president of USC, Dr. Norman Topping announced his early retirement for reasons of health in spring, 1970.

Following the selection of Dr. John R. Hubbard to succeed Dr. Topping, the USC Board of Trustees invited the popular former President to remain on campus, serving in the post of University Chancellor. Dr. Topping accepted, and thus continues to serve his Alma Mater. He is the first alumnus to be USC's Chancellor.

The second alumnus to be President of the oldest major coeducation non-sectarian university in the West, Dr. Topping became USC's chief executive officer on Sept. 1, 1958.

He was graduated from USC in 1933 with a bachelor of arts degree and in 1936 with the degree of doctor of medicine.

He was the chief architect of USC's Master Plan for enterprise and excellence in education, announced in 1961 after a two-year study by trustees, administrators and faculty members.

Many distinguished men of learning were attracted to USC during his Presidency and more than $235 million was given to the University, mostly from private sources, for USC's Master Plan, original goal of which was $106 million.

Dr. Topping came to the USC Presidency after a distinguished 16-year career with the U.S. Public Health Service, climaxed by his appointment as an Assistant Surgeon General and associate director of the National Institutes of Health in Bethesda, Md.

He also was vice president for medical affairs at the University of Pennsylvania six years immediately prior to returning to USC.

Dr. Topping developed the typhus vaccine used in World War II by more than 15,000,000 U.S., Canadian and British servicemen. The vaccine still is in use. Dr. Topping received the Bailey K. Ashford Award in 1943 and the U.S. Typhus Commission Medal in 1945.

Dr. Topping served as President of the Southern California Rapid Transit District for two years, from 1971-73. He is a director of Litton Industries, Getty Oil Co., H. F. Ahmanson & Company, and Transamerica Mutual Funds.

PRESS INFORMATION

PRESS ACCOMMODATIONS

The Los Angeles Coliseum Press Box is available for use by working newspapermen, telegraphers, accredited college scouts, radio and television announcers and technicians, whose duties require the use of work tables and telephone or telegraphic service.

Radio booths are available for broadcasting games outside the Southern California area. Broadcasting rights within this area are held by radio station KNX. Requests for broadcasting privileges should be directed to Jim Perry, Director, Athletic News Service, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California 90007.

Requests for telegraphic service should be directed to Jim Jenkins, Western Union, 741 South Flower Street, Los Angeles, California 90014.

Requests for Sports Comm service should be directed to Dick Bassler (462-5091), 245 No. Ridgewood Place, Los Angeles, California 90004.

A play-by-play report by quarters, half-time statistics, final statistics, coaches' quotes and the scoring summary will be distributed to press and radio. Play-by-play announcements are broadcast throughout the press box.

PHOTO ACCOMMODATIONS

Accredited news photographers are allowed to shoot news pictures from the sidelines and from atop the press box. Photographers are not allowed on the sidelines between the 35-yard lines except during the first quarter, when a special armband must be worn by those photographers entitled to shoot between the 35-yard lines. After the first quarter no photographer is allowed between the 35-yard lines.

PRESS TICKET REQUESTS

Press, radio, scouting, and camera ticket requests for all USC home games should be made to Jim Perry, Director, Athletic News Service, University of Southern California, Los Angeles, California 90007. Tickets will be mailed if time permits or will be left at the "Press Will Call" window near Gate 4 on the South Side of the Coliseum.

For USC's away games, requests should be addressed to:

OREGON — George Beres, sports information director, University of Oregon, Eugene, Oregon 97403. (503) 686-5494.
